Bitter Fight Put Up

Allied Columns Inch Forward

TOKYO, June 9 (Saturday) (AP)—Tightly-massed Reds fought bitterly today against armored Allied columns inching toward the threatened Communist bases of Chorwon and Kumhwa in North Korea.

Loss of the two big bases might force a Red retreat of 65 miles north to the next east-west highway across Korea.

An Eighth Army spokesman said there were indications of a slight withdrawal from the two anchor points of the Red's "iron triangle" assembly area, but, he added, there was no reason to believe the Reds were attempting a widespread pullback from either town.

Allied artillerymen blasted the east-west highway between the two towns.

Associated Press correspondent Tom Bradshaw at Eighth Army said North Korean Reds fought fiercely to prevent a United Nations flanking threat from the eastern tip of the sprawling Hwachon reservoir. That threat developed 45 miles southeast of Kumhwa.

On all three fronts—west, central and eastern — the hardest fighting was in the middle of the line rather than on the flanks.

MASS DEFENSE

Bradshaw said the Reds were employing mass defensive tactics rather than spreading resistance thinly all across the front.

Patrols in the Yonchon area met determined resistance and reported a heavy volume of mortar fire. However, some Allied units gained as much as 3½ miles northwest of Yonchon.

Red resistance around the Hwachon reservoir was especially stubborn.

Allied forces captured a hill north of the reservoir twice but each time were thrown off by 500 to 600 charging Communists.

Other Allied units moved around the eastern tip of the reservoir and gained as much as 2½ miles before ramming into an enemy regiment. The Allied unit was forced to pull back.

An Allied unit fought three hours before cracking through 200 to 300 Communists battling to stop their advance northwest of Hwachon. The U.N. troops finally gained two miles.

Big Development Rumored

Marshall, Ridgway Confer

TOKYO, June 9 (Saturday) (AP)—Defense Secretary George Marshall today held a closely-guarded 75-minute conference with Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway at the Allied supreme commander's headquarters.

The new conference followed others Friday in Korea after the United States Defence Secretary's surprise arrival from the United States Defense Secretariat that some big development in the Korean war was near.

Marshall said Friday his presence had "no connection whatsoever" with any current peace moves; that he came on "purely military" business.

There was no indication from any authoritative source about the subject of today's conferences.

Last night when Marshall arrived from Korean talks, he said his trip was "purely military," but he added that he carried no new directives on fighting the Korean war.

In Korea he told field correspondents: "I came to Korea to congratulate our army leaders on their achievements."

Yet there were two reasons for the round of speculation concerning his conferences with Gen. Matthew Ridgway, supreme Allied commander, and Lt.-Gen. James Van Fleet, U.S. Eighth Army head.

Only two weeks ago, Gen. Lawton Collins, army chief of staff, told a Senate committee hearing that a "definite new directive" for the Korean campaign was being prepared and would be issued soon.

And ambassadors of 16 countries — including Canada — which have troops fighting in Korea were meeting in Washington to discuss prospects for a cease-fire.

Marshall's visit also came at a time when the Communist armies were being pressed back deeper into North Korea.

Marshall arrived from the United States about midnight or early Friday morning.

Morning Fire Destroys Gabriola Island Resort

Special to The Colonist

NANAIMO, June 8—Disaster struck Eric Neuman, proprietor of the Pines Lodge, Gabriola Island, early Friday morning, when fire destroyed the popular summer resort at an estimated loss of $25,000.

The fire broke out about 4 a.m. and the noise of the flames awoke Mr. Neuman, who at first thought it was a passing airplane. He rushed to the homes of neighbors for help, but those who gathered could only look on helplessly while the building burned, there being no fire brigade on the island.

The water supply was plentiful, but there was only a garden hose available.

Mr. Neuman saved only a few pieces of linen and some toys. Included in the loss were a number of paintings, some of Mr. Neuman's own work.

He was alone in the building when the fire broke out. His wife and young son were visiting in Vancouver. He has operated the resort for about two years. It is partly covered by insurance.

Cease-Fire Bid Wins Support

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., June 8 (AP) — Trygve Lie, secretary-general of the United Nations, said today his proposal for a Korean cease-fire in the vicinity of the 38th Parallel had been received favorably by top U.N. diplomats.

But he has heard nothing from the Communists, he said.

"We do not know what is in the mind of the North Koreans and their supporters," Lie said at a luncheon given by the U.N. correspondents. "We do not know whether they would welcome or reject a cease-fire."

Lie confirmed that discussions are under way among U.N. members to decide what steps to take next.

Body of Recluse Found in Old Car

Body of Esquimalt recluse Arthur Radbourne, 51, of Cabin 6, 867 Viewfield Road, was found about 9 o'clock last night lying on the back seat of his old model car.

The body of the solitary cabin dweller was found by caretaker Michael Elsworth who lives in Cabin 10 at the same address. He found Radbourne's body when he was looking for his cat last night and noticed the car parked in an overgrown lot at the back of the cabins.

It is believed the body may have been there several days before it was discovered.

Radbourne's body was taken to Sands Mortuary Limited. It was not known last night if an inquest would be held.

Esquimalt police sergeant James Smart and constable George Harvey attended.

Early reports indicated the lonely cabin tenant died from natural causes.

According to neighbors, Radbourne was in straitened circumstances and behind in his rent. Last summer he lived for a time in his car, cooking scanty meals in the bush.

Last winter he made an unsuccessful bid in Supreme Court for inclusion in the will of a city widow who died in this city. He is remembered for having pressed his own claim without a lawyer and for bringing a thermos and sandwiches into the court room.

To Decide After War

All U.S. Forces Abroad Within U.N. Principles

FLUSHING MEADOW, N.Y., June 8 (INS)—The U.S. notified the United Nations today that all American forces in Korea and the six army divisions being posted in Europe are in keeping with U.N. collective security action.

Without committing additional American military units within the United States, the U.S. notification informed the U.N. that the extent to which armed forces will be maintained for service under the global flag will be decided after the Korean war.

The American move came shortly after U.N. Secretary General Trygve Lie disclosed at a luncheon, without reference to Defense Secretary Marshall's trip to Korea, that he is pressing various governments for a "new effort" on a cease-fire in the Far East.

Vogeler Describes Ordeal Of Torture in Red Prison

Says He Signed "Rubbish" After Futile Resistance

By A.P. and I.N.S.

WASHINGTON, June 8 (AP)—Robert A. Vogeler, grim and unsmiling, told today of 17 months of torture and degradation in a Communist Hungary prison, and disavowed as "rubbish" his purported confession of sabotage and spying.

Seemingly physically fit but still tense after four weeks in a hospital, the 39-year-old American business man detailed for the first time the ordeal he underwent. He was freed April 28 in a State Department deal with the Hungarian regime.

In a talk at the National Press Club, the International Telephone and Telegraph Company executive said he was denied sleep and grilled for 78 hours after his arrest, plunged naked into ice water, slugged, and plied with strong stimulants.

UTTER FUTILITY

"There comes a time," he said, "when a person is faced with the utter futility of not complying with demands. He believes that he is abandoned, that he will be killed in any case, that an alleged confession will appear anyway — and so he signs the rubbish placed before him."

At his trial in Budapest, Vogeler said, he was represented by a "perfect stooge." He was denied the services of an American lawyer and forbidden contact with the U.S. legation.

"As for my testimony at the trial, I seem to have created an unfortunate impression at my first press interview (at Vienna after his release) that the testimony was partly true," he said.

IRONIC

"In my description of it, I sought to use irony when I said 'there was some truth in it.' Perhaps I have lost my sense of irony. The fact is that my name, my birthplace, my employer's name and some other facts were indeed accurately given. But little, if anything else, applied."

In a question-and-answer session after his talk, Vogeler said an anti-Red underground "definitely" exists in Hungary.

All it lacks, he said, is leadership.

ON TELEVISION

Later, on the N.B.C. TV show, "Battle Report — Washington," Vogeler said the Reds have planted land mines and strung barbed wire around iron curtain areas to prevent desertion.

He challenged those who believe Communism is a cure-all to "look at the results" in nations which have been overrun.

Two outstanding features of the Red Hungarian regime, he said, were confiscation of property and abuse of the U.S.

Korea Wounded To Be Returned

OTTAWA, June 8 (CP)—Canadian troops wounded or injured in Korea will be returned to Canada as soon as it is certain they can't go back into action within a 120-day period, army headquarters announced today.

The wounded officers and men will make the 6,000-mile journey home by the first available and suitable means of transportation, providing the injured men are able to travel.

Headquarters has ruled that such men will be posted as instructors or to other jobs in Canada after leaving hospital in this country.

Russian Mission Defies U.S. Order to Quit Zone

SALZBURG, June 9 (Saturday) (INS)—A defiant Soviet repatriation mission, ordered by American authorities to leave Salzburg by Friday midnight, remained in its headquarters early today with the hammer-and-sickle flag flying overhead.

American soldiers made no effort to remove the mission's three Russians by force.

U.S. High Commissioner Walter Donnelly said in Vienna that the United States will wait until late Saturday morning before cracking down and giving the army the go-ahead to carry out its threat "to see that these people are escorted from our zone."

An army spokesman declared: "We have the means at our disposal to force them out."

The United States ordered the mission to leave because it has outlived its usefulness, the job of repatriating Soviet citizens having been completed a long time ago.

The Russians, claiming the mission is provided for under the Yalta Agreement, have refused to leave.

Boy Injured In Collision

Jack Carson, 10, of 1133 Caledonia, was taken to Royal Jubilee Hospital with a fracture of the left wrist after a collision between his bicycle and a parked car.

The car stopped at a stop sign at Cook and Pembroke, was driven by Glen A. Barnes, 651 Pine Street, police reported.

Messages Deepen Mystery

LONDON, June 8 (CP)—The mystery of Britain's two vanished diplomats deepened tonight with the disclosure of telegrams from France saying one planned a "long Mediterranean holiday" and the other "had to leave unexpectedly."

The messages supposedly came from the diplomats, Donald D. MacLean and Guy Burgess, but were sent by a third person believed by Paris police to be of a different nationality.

The messages increased fears that the Russian-speaking pair may be taking Anglo-American secrets to Russia—perhaps under duress.

FEAR FOR CODE

There was speculation about the safety of the British diplomatic code.

Counter-spies stepped up their search throughout Western Europe.

The Foreign Office gave out the texts of three messages to relatives of the two men, who went to France by ship and disappeared two weeks ago today.

A message received by the American wife of MacLean, 38-year-old head of the Foreign Office's American department, said:

"Had to leave unexpectedly. Sorry, darling. I love you. Please do not stop loving me. Donald."

TO MOTHER

Another, unsigned, received by his mother, Lady MacLean: "I am quite all right. Do not worry. Love to all."

One received by Mrs. J. Bassett, mother of Burgess, 40-year-old student of Marxism, recalled recently from his job as second secretary of the British Embassy in Washington:

"Terribly sorry for my silence. Am embarking on long Mediterranean holiday. Do forgive. Guy."

Ten Crashes; Nine Killed

By the Associated Press

Eight jet fighters crashed in a thunderstorm near Richmond, Ind., Friday, and two bombers and a jet went down in separate crashes in the west. At least nine airmen were killed in the crashes involving United States Air Force planes.

The F-84 jet fighters crashed in quick succession around Richmond. Three pilots were killed. Two other pilots were injured, one critically. Two crash-landed their planes without injury, and the eighth parachuted to safety.

Three more airmen were reported killed when a B-25 air force bomber crashed and burned near Reese air force base, eight miles west of Lubbock, Tex.

Two navy fliers were reported killed in the crash of an attack bomber near Kirtland air force base, near Albuquerque, N.M.

THUNDERSTORM

Authorities at Richmond, Ind., said the jet crashes occurred in a 25-mile area around the town. They said the high-speed F-84 fighters broke from a large group formation during a thunderstorm.

The planes, from Bergstrom air force base, Austin, Tex., were on the way to Selfridge Field, Mich.

A survivor of one of the crashes was Capt. Bryce Long.

At Washington, the air force said it had no comment on the crashes pending investigation.

CAPT. BRYCE LONG

The air force said there never had been an accident before involving so many jets.

One survived the crash near Albuquerque. He is C. R. Shepard, an employee of North American Aircraft which builds the attack bomber. Authorities said he parachuted from the ship.

An F-80 Shooting Star crashed five miles south of Bagdad, Ariz. The plane went into a spin, crashed and burned.

House Takes Long Time To Decide on Speed-Up

OTTAWA, June 8 (CP)—The Commons agreed today to work overtime to hasten the end of the current session.

But it spent an hour and 52 minutes fencing around the subject before it finally gave consent.

The time-check was kept by Prime Minister St. Laurent, who later told the chamber it was that sort of time-consuming debate which made it necessary to lengthened the working schedule to three sittings daily.

No one during that one hour and 52 minutes, he said, objected to longer hours, but a half-dozen members delayed proceedings by discussing "kindred" topics.

MORNING SESSIONS

Beginning Monday, the chamber will sit mornings from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. as well as in the customary afternoons and evenings. The following week, the usual Wednesday evening holiday will go.

Target for adjournment is the end of this month, but a new session is to be held this fall to deal with old-age pensions and other legislation.

Today's debate roamed over whether a fall session was necessary, proposals for revision of working hours, more money for members of parliament and the duties of parliamentarians.

George Drew, Progressive Conservative leader, touched off the debate with a 40-minute speech questioning the necessity of a fall session.

He felt the pensions legislation could get adequate attention this session.

He criticized the government for not attempting to plan debates in advance.

BULLETINS

Hope Wanes

WINNIPEG, June 8 (CP)—Hope for the safety of a four-year-old crippled boy, lost in the dense bush 75 miles northwest of Winnipeg since Wednesday, waned tonight as a new rainstorm swept the area.

Blast Fatal

Slept in Hollow Log

Children Found Safe After Mountain Search

SANTA FE, N.M., June 8 (AP).—Three small children were found tired, hungry and thirsty but otherwise unharmed tonight after 28 lonely hours in the rugged Sangre de Cristo mountains.

On hearing the news, their parents burst into tears.

While hundreds of searchers trudged the jagged, steep mountains with lanterns and flashlights last night, the three—Larry McGee, 7, his sister Janet, 5, and Steven Cross, 3½—slept in a hollow log.

"I took good care of them," Larry boasted. "Once I heard some one yelling, but I didn't answer because I thought they were big gorillas.

"Gee, I'm hungry. When I get home I am going to eat and eat."

Police radioed that none of the three suffered any ill effects from the low night temperatures. They were clad only in thin T-shirts and blue jeans on wandering away yesterday from a family picnic.

Britain, U.S. Still Differ

LONDON, June 8 (INS)—Anglo-American informants said tonight that two important phases of the Mediterranean command problem have been settled, but Britain and the United States still differ on the over-all structure.

These reliable sources disclosed that the North Atlantic Pact powers now have agreed that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's European defense command should control its southern flank, including the waters immediately around Italy and the Italian sea communications.

ALL ABOARD

By G. E. Mortimore

"That's a ship, and it's on fire," my classmate announced as he completed a chalk drawing on the blackboard. It was a wobbly liner with crooked funnels, but there were unmistakable flames rising from its stack.

(I was a new pupil at kindergarten, barely four years old.)

"Are you on the ship," I asked the artist anxiously.

"Yep."

"Am I on it?"

"Nope."

"Why not? Is Jim on it?"

"Yep. So's Mabel. So's Mina. So's Bill."

"Why cant I be on it? I want to be on the ship too."

"Youre not on it, that's all."

My keen disappointment at not being allowed to frizzle on the imaginary ship brought me to the verge of tears, and I have remembered it ever since. I wanted to be a member of the group at all costs.

A similar feeling assails me when I look at a Maclean's Magazine map of Canada showing where the Russians are likely to strike if war comes.

Victoria is designated only as a "probable secondary air target." Vancouver, Edmonton and Winnipeg are "probable primary air targets." In the west we share our minor role with Trail, Calgary, Saskatoon, and Regina. Nanaimo is doubtfully honored as "possible target for commando raids."

Victoria Chamber of Commerce should rise to protest the insult. Who are these people who choose to ignore British Columbia's capital city, with a population of nearly 120,000? Why shouldn't the Russians follow the birds?

We want to be on the burning ship too.

This town has given plenty of proof of its importance.

We have a traffic problem which is fully the equal of anything Vancouver can offer. Sometimes I think it is better. Where in Vancouver can you drive around for 50 minutes before you find a parking place? Victoria is a little behind in accidents, admittedly, but that can soon be remedied.

We have a smoke nuisance which might compete vigorously with the Vancouver product, if only someone gave it a little encouragement.

We don't take a back seat when it comes to social strife, either.

The Time-Life correspondent in Seattle could scarcely believe there had been street fights here: "That doesn't sound like Victoria at all," he said when he telephoned to check on reports of a minor riot.

It's time old Victoria asserted her cityhood and told the world she can stage riots which are just as good as any they have in Seattle or any other town.

This is Canada's 12th largest city. Secondary target indeed!

* * *

Today's grouse: A hotel manager says poor mail service has lost the hotel trade and goodwill.

Two airmail letters from Seattle took four days to arrive in Victoria. One of them contained a request for a room. The writer arrived in Victoria just two hours after the letter was delivered. By then there was no accommodation.

Two routine postcards mailed by second-class mail about the same time arrived from Seattle in only two days.

It is doubtful whether Victoria post office is to blame. The Colonist ran a test of mail service some months ago. Letters were posted from several parts of Greater Victoria. Nearly all of them reached their destination in one day.

"Just the thing for the zoot-suiters," said a fast-talking Victoria auctioneer, as he raised the hammer over a job lot of cavalry sabres, bayonets, rapiers and assorted foreign blades.

The lot went for $20 to a man well past the zoot-suit age.

Incidentally, has anyone seen a Victoria lad wearing a zoot suit? This column offers a prize of one paper clip and one empty cigarette package to anyone who can produce a zoot-suiter, alive.

Institution to Seek $150,000 City Vote

Victoria Nursing Home Society next month will ask city council to present a $150,000 money by-law to the electorate to help pay for a $450,000 100-bed addition to the society's Gorge Road institution.

A. F. Stevens, secretary, said yesterday plans are being prepared and will be presented to the council as soon as completed.

"We want to have all details arranged and all aspects considered when we go to the council," he said.

F. E. Winslow, president, is in England but will return in time to present the society's case to council. Preliminary talks were held at the committee level several months ago.

It is planned to use the old section of the nursing home solely for administrative purposes. The home now has 40 beds.

The provincial government has agreed to pay one-third of the cost of the addition, and the Federal government about $150,000. The federal grant is contingent on the home being used for chronic cases.

Because some aldermen feel the city is getting too close to the limit of its borrowing power, the society's proposal may meet opposition. Society officials want the by-law presented at the December elections.

Blasting Solid Rock

Gonzales Lookout Spot Soon Accessible by Road

One of the city's loveliest lookout spots high atop Gonzales Hill will be accessible to the public and tourists in about a month.

Oak Bay engineer A. S. G. Musgrave said the municipality was blasting an extension to Denison Road out of solid rock, leading to the historic cairn.

"It's a most marvelous view," said Mr. Musgrave, "and the plaque, erected by the historic monument board, tells the story of early exploration around Juan de Fuca Strait."

He said the project would cost about $3,000 but the provincial government had made a grant of about $1,500 to help meet the cost.

The newly-laid road will be within the boundaries of Walbran Park, Mr. Musgrave said, and will take cars right to the site of the monument. There will be a parking area and room for cars to turn around.

He said the cairn was erected when the Hon. Herbert Anscomb was Victoria's mayor and that during the Second World War the army had built a concrete observation post on the spot.

Hatchet Case Still Baffles Toronto Police

TORONTO, June 8 (CP).—Scores more persons were questioned today but police said they were still at a dead end in their search for the hatchet killer of Mrs. Edwin Derkison.

Officials said they had turned up no clues since the 42-year-old woman was found Wednesday in her mid-Toronto hardware store, a hatchet embedded in her skull.

Said one police officer:

"We're no farther ahead today than we were when we found her body."

A blood-stained coat was found today in a clump of bushes near the murder scene. It had no connection with the killing, police said.

Price Slash On Watches Jams Store

NEW YORK, June 8 (AP).—Big-name watch manufacturers today waged a hard but inconclusive court fight to stop a large [illegible] products at half-price.

The bitter legal tangle was the latest upshot of a retail price-cutting war that has spread across the United States.

The 50 per cent slash in the price of nationally-known watches—Gruen, Elgin, Benrus, Bulova, Longines and Longines-Wittnauer—was made by Klein's.

Customers jammed the place in a revived boom of price-war bargain hunting as lawyers argued sharply in court.

"Our whole business has been affected and is likely to be irretrievably ruined," said Eugene Eisenmann, a lawyer for Benrus.

MAKE PROFIT

Klein's contended that it was not underselling the watches, but was still making a profit, even at half the list prices.

The suing watch companies—Benrus, Bulova, and Longines-Wittnauer—maintained the sales come under a New York State fair trade price-fixing law.

Judge James B. M. McNally reserved decision in the case, as did Judge Joseph F. Conroy in a similar injunction-seeking supreme court suit against Macy's department store.

In the latter, Queen's druggist Adolph Rothbau seeks to halt Macy's, the kick-off leader in the price war, from selling drugs manufactured and sold in the state below list price.

Macy's, joined by Gimbel's and others in slashing price-fixed items, spearheaded the fight.

The price fight hit Brooklyn automobile laundries today. More than a dozen car-washing establishments cut their regular rates of $1.50 a car down to as low as 50 cents.

The price scramble also cropped up in Lewiston, Me., where a furniture dealer cut prices.

The Better to See Niagara

New vantage point for amateur photographers intent on capturing the beauty of Niagara Falls, is the newly completed Table Rock Observation Plaza, overlooking the cataracts. Nestled at the base of the 150-foot high Canadian Horseshoe Falls, the plaza, carved from solid rock, is a spectacular addition to the famed Horseshoe Tunnel trip.—(Central Press Canadian.)

Washington Jittery As Diplomats Flee

INTERPRETING THE NEWS

By J. M. ROBERTS, JR.
A.P. News Analyst

Whether it turns out to be treason or just a binge, the disappearance of two British diplomats has served to emphasize the severe case of jitters which lurks behind the international scene these days.

Without waiting to see what had happened, London and Washington got all upset lest their relations, difficult enough at times, be further strained.

The first question many Americans asked was "when are the British going to start being as careful as we have been, since the infiltration revelations, about the employment in key positions of Communists and other unstable characters who might stage a switch?"

CLOSER TO REDS

There seems to be a rather general belief that because Britain has a Socialist government, they are nearer to the Reds by nature.

This feeling seems to have been heightened by the fact that a lot of left-wing Socialists around the world have either equivocated or sided in some degree with Russian policy regarding the Korean war.

This really has nothing to do with the controling faction of socialism in Britain. The government—as all British governments—conducts a strictly-for-Britain foreign policy. But many people are not prone to draw fine distinctions in times such as these.

ON PAR

As a matter of fact, Britain has anti-Communist restrictions in government about on a par with those of the United States.

Communists, and others whose connections raise "legitimate" doubts as to their loyalty, are barred from positions of trust. (Incidentally, so are Fascists). Attlee announced the policy in March, 1948, but dismissals under it had occurred as much as a year earlier.

All British government employees, except telephone operators and army rankers, are subjected to loyalty investigations similar to those in the U.S. There is no loyalty oath, except in the armed services. But all, even former government employees, come under the Official Secrets Act, providing heavy penalties for any breach of security.

HOLIDAY?

Personally, for the moment, I lean toward the "unscheduled holiday" explanation for MacLean and Burgess. But if it is found that they have fled to the Russian camp with important diplomatic information, it will be well for Americans to remember that their own fellow citizens have done, and are doing, just as bad or worse.

Neither British nor American official integrity is to be judged by the actions of a few individual crackpots.

Most of the serious insect pests in Canadian agriculture are species accidentally introduced from other countries.

Phone Company Plan Opposed

Ottawa Told Expansion Bid Too High

OTTAWA, June 8 (CP).—Vancouver city council's objections to a proposed $50,000,000 increase in the capitalization of the British Columbia Telephone Company, today were put on record before the Commons' railway committee.

The increase in capitalization from $25,000,000 to $75,000,000 sought in a bill before the Com[illegible] a Vancouver memorandum.

The committee is studying the bill before sending it back to the House, where it would come up for final reading. Evidence will be continued Monday.

The Vancouver submission was introduced by Howard Green (P.C., Vancouver-Quadra).

MAIN OBJECTION

A main objection it listed to the capitalization scheme was that it could provide the company with enough money to get along for 12 to 15 years without coming back to Parliament.

Another was that the cost of carrying the new capital stock might be reflected in increased rates.

The memorandum also referred to evidence that B.C. Telephone, one firm in a network of affiliated companies, pays some affiliates for certain services.

One such payment is a fee of 1 per cent of its operating revenues to the parent Anglo-Canadian Telephone Company.

"Obviously," the Vancouver submission said, "this company should not be permitted to detach lucrative sources of income from its own operations for the benefit of the Anglo-Canadian Company."

James Hamilton of Vancouver, senior operating vice-president of the company, replied today that its contracts with affiliates are fully in accord with rulings of the Board of Transport Commissioners.

Britain Loses 249 in Korea

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y., June 8 (AP).—The British Information Services said today the latest British casualty total in the Korean war is 2,167, of whom 249 were killed or died of wounds.

The announcement said the British Army lost 225 dead, 753 wounded and 1,085 missing, including prisoners of war, and the navy lost 24 killed, 52 wounded, 11 missing and 17 prisoners of war. About 600 of the army's missing are men of the Gloucester Regiment which made an epic last-ditch stand in April, fighting almost to the last man.

Britain has put about 23,000 men into the Korean fighting.

Iranians at Ahwaz To Run Oil Industry

TEHRAN, June 8 (CP)—Crowds cheered and animals were sacrificed at Ahwaz today upon the arrival of an Iranian government group assigned to run the nationalized oil industry.

Ahwaz is the capital of oil-producing Khuzistan Province, the base of the industry Britons have developed for 50 years.

It lies about 350 miles south of Tehran and 100 miles northeast of the Persian Gulf port of Abadan, where the British-owned Anglo-Iranian Oil Company operates the world's largest refinery.

Two men of a temporary three-man board of directors named by Premier Mohammed Mossadegh's government expect to move on Sunday to Abadan. There they will confer with a parliamentary committee on the take-over.

(In London, 70 Conservative members of the House of Commons presented a motion charging the British Labor government with increasing the risk of war and endangering British interests.)

RAINFALL UP

PORT ALBERNI, June 8.—According to weather reports for May there were 2.12 inches of rain during the month as compared with 1.70 inches during the same period in 1950.

High and low temperatures this year were 83 and 27 degrees on the 21st. Last year's high and low were the same with the temperatures reaching 83 on May 11 and May 31 while the low of 27 was on May 7. The temperature, average this year, was slightly higher however.

NANAIMO, June 8.—Funeral services were held from Westwood Hirst Chapel of Flowers today for Marines Kloosterman, 58, who died here Wednesday. Rev. Koekkock of Sumas officiated.

Born in Holland Mr. Kloosterman came to Canada 25 years ago and farmed in Saskatchewan before moving to East Wellington two years ago.

Surviving are two brothers, Dirk and Christiaan in Holland and a nephew Sentinus of East Wellington.

Five Generations of Fathers Found in Only Two Families

TORONTO, June 8 (CP).—There are only two families in Canada that can wish a happy father's day to father, grandfather, great-grandfather and great-great-grandfather on June 17.

The Canadian Father's Day Committee, after conducting a country-wide search, said one is the John Edmondson family of Oshawa and Bowmanville, Ont.; the other is the Cleveland Forbes family of Lower East Pubnico, N.S.

The committee declared the Edmondson family tops because the great-great-grandfather is four years older than his Nova Scotia rival.

The search turned up many five-generation Canadian families but only two in which the male links all were living.

Great-great-grandfather Edmondson is 90 and his great-great-grandson Howard is four.

Shrine Bands, Calliopes Drown Out Traffic Roar

VANCOUVER, June 8 (CP).—It was a noisy day in Vancouver. Bands and calliopes blared on downtown streets and there were impromptu parades.

It was the opening of the three-day convention of the Pacific Northwest Shrine Association, and none of the fun, color and pageantry of Shrinedom was missing.

Thousands of Shriners came from across the border, and hundreds of others came from British Columbia and Alberta cities by train, plane, boat, bus and car.

The fun-loving army numbered 7,000 good-natured business men in traditional multi-colored trousers and red fezzes.

MUSICAL PAGEANT

Tonight there was a spectacular pageant of music and color at Callister Park featuring Seattle opera stars Theo Karl, Jean Gray and George Peckham.

Tomorrow there will be a giant parade with 2,000 marchers, and at night a colorful display at Lost Lagoon in Vancouver's famed Stanley Park, where a brightly-lit floating stage has been built.

Imperial Potentate Huber M. Poteat from Wake Forest, North Carolina, chief of the world's 640,000 Shriners, brought a report of an ever-advancing organization.

"Our organization is the largest now it has ever been and keeps growing," he said.

Toastmasters To Aid Army In Experiment

Aid of four Victoria Toastmaster Clubs has been enlisted by local army officials to assist in the training of officer candidates.

Some 43 C.O.T.C. cadets from Victoria College will receive criticism and instruction in public speaking from a panel of Toastmasters commencing June 18 at Work Point Barracks, it was announced jointly yesterday by a club spokesman and Major J. A. Hilliard of the Artillery School at Work Point.

The plan is described as an experiment.

NORMAL REQUIREMENT

Major Hilliard, who will be in charge of the public speaking sessions, said topics will be assigned by the Toastmasters.

Practise in public speaking is a normal requirement in officer training, he said.

The sessions are expected to assist both army selection officers and students who may become instructors.

Chairman of the Toastmaster committee is Gordon Williscroft of the Thunderbird Club; educational director, Denis Taylor of the Victoria club.

Oddities

KANSAS CITY, June 8 (AP).—When Mr. and Mrs. Barney Mahoney returned home Wednesday night they found vases overturned and signs of disorder.

In the kitchen they found the culprit, a tipsy dog. Their pet boxer, usually well-mannered, had knocked a bottle of wine off a table, lapped it up and gone on a spree.

* * *

LOS ANGELES, June 8 (AP).—You'd think a man's car would be safe from collision as long as he left it in his garage.

But Miss Leona Free's car collided with Herbert Bronson's, bounded over a curb, whizzed through a wire fence, sped through 150 feet of backyard, tore down a child's swing and rammed through the wall of Chester Coleman's garage.

There's a big spot caved in on Coleman's new auto.

Co-Operation Is the Key to Solution

DISCUSSIONS this week between Victoria mill owners and city fire wardens, together with an inspection of the industrial area by a qualified official, have made a good beginning with a complex, difficult problem which will require both patience and determination to bring a successful solution. As co-operation is the key to success in that, it is pleasing to find that the city is being offered both sympathy and help in its effort to improve living conditions in the smoke-affected northeast section of the community. If the same spirit persists and genuine steps are taken now by those most concerned, there is no reason why the present undue degree of atmospheric pollution cannot be lessened considerably.

The initial findings placed in the city's hands have confirmed what was said here about the degree of unburnt waste material that gets away from the industrial section in the form of smoke, cinders or ash. Also borne out was the fact that many plants have tried earnestly, and at considerable cost, to fulfill their responsibilities in the matter. Unfortunately not all plants have done so, and for that reason if for no other the city should proceed with its survey, ascertain the minimum that should and could be done to abate the trouble, and then insist upon that correction being made. The suggestion that industry help to police itself in this is a good one. That is the honor system, and in affairs of this nature it has been known to produce effective results. No industrial establishment wishes to continue any practice which earns it ill will if a feasible remedy can be found.

The mainland smoke inspector who suggested that improper combustion may be causing a good deal of the trouble, his remarks with regard to the use of precipitators, and above all the feeling that the present inquiry will bring some beneficial results, have all been helpful. The next step is consultation, and the final one action. A good start has been made.

Junior Safety Patrol's Splendid Record

THE 16-year record of freedom from accident at school crossings where traffic is directed by members of the junior safety patrol stands to the credit of the Kiwanis Club, which introduced the plan to Victoria. In all that time not one child has been killed, nor has there been a single case of injury at any point where the patrol system has been operated. That is a truly remarkable achievement, and one of which the sponsoring service club and the hundreds of boys, many of whom are now married men, who have taken turns of duty at the crossings have every reason to feel proud. It is to the credit of the motoring public also that since the inauguration of the scheme the utmost respect has been shown for the control wielded by the diminutive traffic officers.

The authority given to the patrols is a tempting thing to place in the hands of boys not yet in their teens; yet instances of that authority being abused or treated lightly are extremely rare. On the contrary they have taken their duties seriously and, with few exceptions, have performed them with courtesy and efficiency that have earned commendation from the public and from the courts.

The junior safety patrol system is a fine institution for other reasons than the protection of children crossing the streets. As Mr. M. V. Chesnut has pointed out, the "by-products" of the system—development of a sense of responsibility and citizenship, of respect for discipline, and of co-operation with the police and with one another—have much value in building character. Every boy who has taken his turn of patrol duty is that much better equipped to take his place in the community when he reaches manhood.

How Does She Get Away With It?

A REPORT from United Nations headquarters at New York suggests that the Nationalist China delegate might lose his General Assembly vote because his government is two years behind in its U.N. dues. This would be a circumstance pleasing to the Soviet bloc of members, although should the Korean war continue it will be surprising if the Formosa regime is unable to find a friend to come to the rescue.

Not that member states in general seem particularly prompt in matching their U.N. assessments. Half this year has almost gone but six-sevenths of the 1951 dues have yet to be collected, including those of Russia and the United States. This is directly opposite to the attitude of most governments in connection with their own peoples, who are usually bidden to pay up promptly, or be penalized. The U.N. financial picture is therefore not without irony.

Another aspect of the world organization's monetary arrangements is equally intriguing, that of the assessment rate. Here Soviet Russia is the conspicuous example of buying her diplomacy on the cheap. She is one of the largest and most powerful member states of the U.N., yet she pays much less in dues than her apparently fair share. The United States, one-third Russia's size and with less population, is assessed nearly six times as much. Great Britain's bill is nearly double that of Russia's; while Canada, with only one-thirteenth Russia's population, is levied nearly half the amount charged against the U.S.S.R.

Somebody made a good deal for Russia when basic U.N. membership dues were fixed. No wonder Mr. Gordon Graydon rose in parliament this week to complain that the Soviet state was "getting away with murder."

BEHIND CURTAINS?

Sir,—What sort of business is the provincial government up to now? I refer to the request that the wage offer to the civil servants be kept a secret from not only the general public but also the civil servants themselves. This can only mean one thing. They are again trying to hide something or are ashamed of the offer.

The government should be reminded that the civil servants are the employees of the people of British Columbia, not of the cabinet, and the wage offer should be openly disclosed.

F. SUTTON.

Cordova Bay, R.M.D. 4, Victoria, B.C.

HOSPITAL INSURANCE

Sir,—So the cost of having babies is going up, too. I refer to the increase in medical fees announced by the B.C. College of Physicians and Surgeons. It is now going to cost at least $25 more to have a baby and I'll wager no one will argue the point.

Hospital insurance premiums were raised $9 for a year, and the whole province went into an uproar.

I'm not opposed to the doctors' increase on principle. It was made necessary because of the same thing which caused H.I.S. premiums to increase, the spiralling cost of living. What I'd like to know is why does everyone make such a fuss about hospital insurance premiums when they accept the rise in cost of food, electricity, wages and everything else?

Seems to me there was more than a little political opposition at the base of it all.

JACK McCARTHY.

View Royal, Victoria, B.C.

ROADSIDE SIGNS

Sir,—I have just returned from a trip down the Oregon coast. The highway signs were a real treat. Being a stranger in that particular part of the country, I had no trouble at all in finding points of interest: beauty spots, barbecued salmon, lakes, good fishing, etc. Why is it that here in our beautiful Victoria they are doing away with highway signs? Yesterday I happened to be standing by a travel bureau and overheard several tourists ask for maps. They remarked that there must be some beautiful places to see here on this island, but they were at a loss just how to go about finding these places.

Why can't we have signs telling people where to go for Devonshire cream, little hidden English inns that we have, our lakes, beautiful gardens, etc.? We need tourists and it seems to me we are doing everything to drive them away. You hear some old dodderers says that highway signs spoil the natural beauty of a place. I say balderdash, it makes a place look lived in. I'm all for signs on the highway letting strangers know just what we have to offer—and it's plenty—but our tourists are tired out with the "try and find it system" we have now.

MRS. M. VINING.

2220 Cook Street, Victoria, B.C.

SIDEWALK CYCLING

Sir,—Not long ago, shortly after dark, I met two cyclists (youths about 17) riding two abreast with lamps unlit, at a quick rate, and to save myself being hit, I jumped into the road and nearly was killed by a passing bus—no fault of the driver, mind you.

In England the fine for cycling on the pavement is $5 for the first offence and $25 for the second, and jail for the third.

If we cannot walk on the sidewalk in safety, then where are we to walk?

I have been a cyclist all my life, and a member of the C.T.C. (Cyclists' Touring Club) and have respected the pedestrian by keeping in my proper place—on the road.

If you are knocked down on the sidewalk here it is just too bad for you as cycling is allowed on the sidewalk. In the neighborhood of schools I have seen more cycles on the sidewalk than I have on the road.

Let us use the by-law prohibiting same before someone is killed.

E. A. S. DANIELL.

Sonnet

Full many a glorious morning have I seen
Flatter the mountain-tops with sovereign eye,
Kissing with golden face the meadows green,
Gilding pale streams with heavenly alchemy;
Anon permit the basest cloud to ride
With ugly rack on his celestial face,
And from the forlorn world his visage hide,
Stealing unseen to west with this disgrace.
Even so my sun one early morn did shine
With all-triumphant splendor on my brow;
But, out, alack! he was but one hour mine,
The region cloud hath masked him from me now.
Yet for him this my love no whit disdaineth;
Suns of the world may stain when heaven's sun staineth.

—Shakespeare.

"What's the matter with you men—Can't you read?"

Minerals, Too

By FRANK KELLEY

NO one can quarrel with a policy aiming at the perpetuation of a country's natural resources, particularly a resource as valuable as the forests of British Columbia have been to the people of this province since Confederation days.

Some wonder, though, while granting the importance of the forests to the British Columbia economy, why the search for minerals is not encouraged more, seeing that the annual output of precious and base metals continues to make a very creditable showing in government reports.

* * *

Take Vancouver Island, for instance. It looks, some old prospectors will tell you, as if government policy was determined to keep the land beyond the E. & N. land grant solely as a timber preserve. They cite the evidence of minerals in many places; but are not in agreement with the policy that protects one resource at the expense of another vitally important resource.

Maybe the old prospector who was instrumental in uncovering so much wealth in various parts of British Columbia in years gone by accidentally set some fires in the forests; but it was not through carelessness or cussedness mainly; for either would only jeopardize his searching. What the old-timer would like to see, so that younger men could get into the hills, are some roads making prospecting efforts easier.

* * *

Having great faith in the mineral possibilities of Vancouver Island, they point to the origin of the rocks and the occurrences of this and that mineral in many places. They also point out that the protection of the timber, to which they attribute the whole outdoor policy of continuous tree-growing, is decidedly a gamble, since forest fires and wind storms of hurricane force can quickly erase the results of long-term planning. In any case, they will tell you that Vancouver Island and the coastal areas of British Columbia should be surveyed geologically and the mineral possibilities made available.

And apropos of the part minerals play, and have played, in shaping human destinies, the professor of geology at Queen's University, Kingston, A. W. Jolliffe, has some pertinent things to say in the May issue of "The Pre-Cambrian," a publication devoted to mid-western Canadian mining. It was passed on to me, without comment, by George Winkler, well-known in connection with Vancouver Island mineral exploration.

* * *

Professor Jolliffe gives five countries premier rating in world affairs and goes into considerable detail as to what made them great. It was neither timber, fish nor farming—nor such factors as advantages in political institutions, geographic position, expansion in world trade. While these latter furnished a friendly enough basis, the really all-important factor is that those countries happened to possess the rare combination of easily worked deposits of coal and iron ore in peculiarly favorable proximity.

Had this condition not existed, Professor Jolliffe contends, the other factors would not have mattered. Scanning a map of the world, he points out that valuable mineral deposits have an erratic distribution. One country alone, the United States, produces one-quarter of the world's coal and lead, more than a third of the world's copper and zinc and over one-half of the world's petroleum and iron ore. Concluding, he states that "minerals constitute the most important single physical factor shaping national destinies in the world today; and unless mankind resorts to Old Stone Age conditions, this will be true for some time to come."

Reporting From Ottawa

THE pahhandler who slugged Social Credit leader Solon Low on an Ottawa street the other day, after Low had refused him a handout, got off lightly when he was charged only with common assault.

For slugging an M.P. in case you are ever tempted, is a grievous offense, much more grievous than assaulting an ordinary citizen.

As one authority (Bourinot) puts it, "Assaulting, menacing or insulting of any member in his coming to or going from the House, or on account of his behavior in Parliament is a high infringement of the privileges of the House."

For so doing, one may be jugged for an indeterminate period of time, or otherwise punished, at the discretion of the House of Parliament of which the injured one is a member.

In Britain such action is "a most outrageous and dangerous violation of the rights of Parliament, and a high crime and misdemeanor." In the past, offenders have been hustled off to the Tower of London and incarcerated there at Parliament's pleasure—which means until Parliament's honor is satisfied and the culprit sufficiently punished.

The Canadian Parliament has never had a "tower" in the English sense of the word. Parliamentary dungeons were out of fashion when our governmental edifices were built. But that didn't prevent Parliament from jailing a businessman named R. C. Miller in 1913 for his refusal to answer questions put to him by a Commons committee. Miller languished for weeks in the local pokey.

British Rifle: The British Government didn't appreciate being beaten by this column on the announcement of the British army's adoption of a new .28 calibre automatic rifle. When that news was published here on April 12, the British were making plans to send a memorandum on the new rifle to Commonwealth governments on April 29th.

First W.D.: Almost every city, it seems, has its own candidate for "first woman in the R.C.A.F."—usually pictured in the local press shaking hands with a beribboned R.C.A.F. officer. Actually, the first woman in, since the decision to recruit women for the regular peacetime air force was taken, was Flying Officer Millicent Fraser of Ottawa and Masstown, N.S., who joined up on April 1 to aid in planning the recruiting of other women. She served in the W.D.'s last time.

Governor-General: A columnist in the English Financial Times plugs Sir Evelyn Baring, retiring British high commissioner to South Africa, as Canadian Governor-General when Lord Alexander retires. But in the unlikely event that a suitable Canadian appointee cannot be found, it's not probable that a long-time British civil servant with close connections with the British Government would be considered.

Missing M.P.: Something new was added to Parliament on June 4. For the first and probably only time this session, Montreal's Mayor Camillien Houde, who is the Independent M.P. for Papineau, Que., was present in the Commons chamber attending to his parliamentary duties. There's one consolation: the penalties imposed for his habitual absenteeism exceed his indemnity and allowance of $6,000 a year, so he doesn't get any money for being an M.P.

Final Word: Among other things, the Massey Commission would seem to squelch the inferential argument of private radio station owners that they have a right, practically a property right, to use the air waves. Operative sentence is "but that they (the private broadcasters) enjoy any vested right to engage in broadcasting as an industry, or that they have any status except as part of the national broadcasting system, is to us inadmissable."

All She Said to Him

(From The Ottawa Journal)

THOSE who take golf tournaments as read missed something in the reports from Porthcawl, Wales, of the British Amateur tournament.

Dick Chapman of North Carolina, playing the final against a fellow-countryman, had thrown away most of his lead and was slipping badly—he had lost the 24th hole and was only one up. Chapman, in his irritation, "flung his cigarette to the ground, kicked the soggy turf and bawled out his caddy".

As Chapman walked to the next tee his wife joined him, took him aside, spoke to him briefly. The player went on to win five of the next seven holes and the match by 5 and 4, so naturally the reporters sought out his wife to ask what she said which worked the transformation. "All I did," said Mrs. Chapman, "was to ask if he was a man or a mouse."

That was all, but enough. Chapman didn't need any more. He could see what the future had in store for him if he lost that match. "Remember, Dick, that day in Wales at the British Amateur?" she would say sweetly, and there would be references to men and mice. "Remember how you kicked the caddy and bawled out the soggy turf when you lost the match to a fellow from, of all places, Oklahoma City? Remember taking it out on a poor innocent cigarette?" That could go on and on.

Clearly there was nothing for Chapman to do but win that match, which he did. Never under-estimate, as has been said, the power of a woman.

Fun, Fact and Fiction

"What can you tell me about television?" asked the teacher.

"Well," replied the boy with freckles, "if you start an electrical saw in the basement, the company goes home without waiting for lunch."

The Packsack

Of GREGORY CLARK

THIS week I saw a summer cottage which a bear had investigated. The owners had week-ended there, probably leaving an opened tin of jam, or a package of bacon or some such treasure to reek out the keyholes and door cracks for the nose of the explorer.

The bear had simply torn the screen, smashed a window pane, reached in and yanked the window, frame and all, out onto the ground; and then entered the cabin, Romeo style.

Inside, he had huffed and puffed, knocking everything off the kitchen shelves, pulled some red curtains off the front windows, batted a red ornamental jug off the Welsh dresser, chewed a red cushion to shreds, and scratched a large red calendar showing His Majesty George VI in field marshal's rig off the wall. This bear was excited by red.

He did a good job of vandalism, pushing all the chairs and settees out of place. And instead of going out through the same smashed window he came in by, he chose another window, smashed it, pulled it inside the room and then burst out the screen.

Bears are at one and the same time the most secretive and the most stupidly daring of all animals. They have to be secretive to have survived as they have against all the hunters and trappers of the past half-century, in which the high-power repeating rifle has vastly multiplied the chances against anything large and wild surviving. In the same era the gas engine and latterly the outboard engine have facilitated fast and far travel in the wilds by ever-mounting armies of hunters and trappers. But the black bear still survives in swamps and remote wilderness regions.

From these, he sorties out now and again to play hooligan with the cabins, shanties and cook-houses of his lordly persecutor.

Terrible Exhibit

"PERHAPS the most terrible implement of destruction ever delivered into the human hand." The words have an uncomfortably up-to-date ring, and the civilian, stepping gingerly into the second half of the twentieth century, might easily imagine that they referred to some new Welisian apparatus being secretly assembled in an underground factory. In fact, the phrase is just 100 years old and was used in these columns to describe the latest repeating pistol brought to this country by Samuel Colt.

The weapon which created such a profound impression on the observer was displayed at a stand in that part of Crystal Palace devoted to exhibits from America, and the opinion of the day was that it would supersede the firearms then carried by the cavalry of every military power. A committee of American generals had expressed the opinion that a trooper with such a weapon would be a match for three armed in any other way. Statistics, available at the stand, showed that penetration was through seven inches of board, while the highest penetration of a dragoon pistol was five inches. Evidence of the "terrible celerity" of the rate of fire was provided by eight American marines who discharged in five minutes no fewer than 184 balls between them. Such was the effect of all this on the public mind that responsible opinion urged that the pistol be placed at once in the hands of our Lancers at the Cape and in Upper India, and that it should be issued to the cavalry regiment about to embark for guerrilla duties against the Caffres.

From the vantage-point of posterity we can see that the revolver, and the "automatics" which followed it, formidable and efficient as they were, hardly lived up to the lurid expectations of their time. It was all very well for the heroes of fiction to bring down their man with a shot from a galloping horse or the side window of a car in chase. In reality the man who had visions of blazing his way to glory with a smoking gun in each hand soon found how elusive a stationary target at 15 paces could be. Today, surrounded by more formidable weapons, we may perhaps be forgiven for consoling ourselves with the realization that in other ages, too, men have stood in awe of their own inventions.

—The Times, London.

Looking Back

Through Colonist Files

25 YEARS AGO—The city council has adopted plans for a four-room frame annex, finished in colonial style, to the Oaklands School at an estimated cost of $16,430.

50 YEARS AGO—The Department of Agriculture is shipping to Australia a collection of specimens of native woods of British Columbia, for exhibition in Sydney, N.S.W.

85 YEARS AGO—Neither the legislative council nor the city council held any sittings yesterday, the arrival of the mail steamer having induced in the members a forgetfulness of their duties.

Flood Threat Eliminated, Survey Shows

The threat of flood in the Fraser Valley and interior regions is apparently over, according to a bulletin from the Provincial Water Rights snow survey branch.

The bulletin says "a very high degree of run-off has occurred during May on all major streams" and that "the flood potential would appear to be eliminated."

Precipitation and temperatures during May have been near normal in all areas except the Okanagan, where precipitation has been considerably lower.

"The water content of the remaining snow pack is about 65 per cent of that of last year at the same time, but more than that of the same date in 1949," states the bulletin.

Colonist Telegraph Editor
(From AP., CP., INS., Reuters)

The government in OTTAWA plans to introduce its freight-rate equalization bill at the current session of parliament, but to let it await passage until the fall sitting, it was learned yesterday.

It is indicated that the legislation, which paves the way for equalized rates across Canada, will be turned over this month to a Commons committee for consideration in the off-season.

Government officials said the move, making the complex bill public well in advance of parliamentary action, also would give time for it to be studied by the railways, provincial governments and others interested.

* * *

Senator Harry Cain (R., Wash.) charged in WASHINGTON yesterday that U.S. senators have been "misled" by the joint chiefs of staff into believing that Gen. Douglas MacArthur first suggested quitting Korea last December. He demanded their recall for further testimony.

* * *

General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church in Canada, meeting in OTTAWA yesterday, approved increases in pensions to ministers which, effective last April, amount to one-ninth of the church's present contribution.

* * *

The U.S. defense department in Washington has announced that plans are being drawn up to provide military aid for Communist Yugoslavia as a possible aid in the defense of Europe. Col.-Gen. Koca Popovic, chief of the general staff of the Yugoslav army, has been in the U.S. since May 15 to discuss the plans.

* * *

FEWER HOMES

Fewer homes, says the Bureau of Statistics in OTTAWA, were started or finished during March than last year, but there were more during the first quarter of the year than the corresponding period of 1950.

* * *

Heard in SAN FRANCISCO, the Peiping radio claimed yesterday that the Canadian 25th Brigade and two U.S. Army units suffered heavy losses on the Korean front last week. The Red radio said 7,800 Allied troops were killed, wounded or captured during the 13 days ended June 3.

* * *

In DENVER yesterday, the newly-created honorary degree of Doctor of Public Service was conferred on Dr. Ralph Bunche and Admiral Chester W. Nimitz by the University of Denver.

* * *

Sir Eugene Fiset, who was lieutenant-governor of Quebec for almost 11 years, died yesterday at RIVIERE DU LOUP. He was 76 years of age, and had retired from office last September.

DRAFT TREATY AWAITED

The Canadian government, according to an OTTAWA dispatch, is hopeful that a joint British-American draft of a Japanese peace treaty will emerge shortly and open the way for resumption of normal relations with Tokyo. The dispatch quoted External Affairs Minister Pearson.

* * *

From LONDON comes word that King George, who has a slight catarrhal inflammation of the lung, will stay at Buckingham Palace when the rest of the Royal Family moves to Windsor next week.

* * *

Canadian troops in Korea, says an OTTAWA report, soon will be wearing a new shoulder flash that will identify them with the first Commonwealth division of the United Nations forces.

* * *

In BUENOS AIRES yesterday Madame Eva Peron ordered her social-aid organization to pay more than 3,000,000 pesos ($300,000) to the employees of the government-seized newspaper La Prensa as wages and salaries for April and May.

* * *

Canadian, Australian and New Zealand delegates to the International Federation of Agricultural Producers' conference in MEXICO CITY pledged yesterday that their organizations will do their utmost to help relieve India's famine.

The U.S. House agriculture committee in WASHINGTON yesterday unanimously demanded that the administration lift price controls on beef, and threatened legislative action unless its mandate is carried out.

* * *

At almost the same time, however, President Truman warned legislative leaders in WASHINGTON that the Russians will win "the cold war without firing a shot" if Congress fails to enact anti-inflation controls tighter than those now in existence.

* * *

"PEOPLE REBELLING"

In LOS ANGELES Vivien Kellems, the Connecticut industrialist who has defied U.S. withholding tax laws for three years, declared yesterday that the country was "on the verge of mass civil disobedience." She predicted that the income tax law will be repealed because the people are "rebelling."

* * *

U.S. Air Force Secretary Thomas Finletter asserted in PASADENA last night that settlement of the Korean situation will not mean a halt of similar Communist aggression elsewhere, and warned against relaxing U.S. military strength.

* * *

A WINNIPEG dispatch reports the death in Montreal of Judge Joseph Bernier, a prominent figure in Manitoba political and legal life for nearly 50 years.

* * *

The U.S. Senate crime committee in WASHINGTON yesterday sponsored legislation to outlaw shipment of lottery tickets and punchboards, and to outlaw the sending of bets by telephone, telegraph or mail.

Cubs Ready For Signaling Contest

BIG DERBY ENTRY

PORT ALBERNI, June 8.—When the Gyro soap box derby is held here on Monday, July 2, there will be numerous entries from the valley in addition to entries from Nanaimo, Victoria and Seattle.

Already 23 local sponsors have signified their support of the derby by providing wheels for this event.

Club officials point out that all entries must be in not later than June 23. A car does not have to be finished by that time, but entry forms must be in by that date.

Thousand Cubs to Greet Wallace With Grand Howl as Rally Starts

Lieutenant-Governor Clarence Wallace will receive an enthusiastic, if not formal, message of greeting this afternoon at Macdonald Park.

He will be surrounded by some 1,000 Wolf Cubs in the traditional circle of the salutatory Grand Howl.

It will be one of the opening events of the first annual Boy Scout and Wolf Cub rally and pageant for Victoria, Sidney, Sooke, and points between. More than 600 scouts will join the 1,000 Cubs in the day-long affair.

STARTS 2 P.M.

The afternoon rally will begin at 2 p.m. with the lieutenant-governor taking the march past. Immediately afterward, 20 different tests of scouting knowledge and ability will be given.

Typical of the tests for Scouts are knotting contests, first aid demonstrations, message relaying and life-line throwing. The Cub tests include semaphore message deciphering and message relays.

All of the demonstrations and tests will be on a competitive basis and designed to show abilities in the nature of civil defense and disaster relief.

PAGEANT

"Scouting Through the Ages," a pageant of scouting activities from the time of the cave man into the future will be presented at the park at 7 p.m. Twenty-three Scout troops and one Cub pack will take part in the pageant. The troops will portray the past and the present of scouting, the Cubs will represent Scouts of the future.

Stalls erected by individual troops and packs or by their auxiliary organizations will be open. Food will be sold, with the profits going to the home troop.

Attendance at the rally and pageant has been forecast at 10,000 with more than 8,000 tickets already sold.

VISIT THE CARIBOO FOR A PLEASANT VACATION

The high, dry climate of the Cariboo . . . its warm, sunny days and cool nights . . . offers a welcome contrast to the coast's constant climate!

All roads leading into the Cariboo are in excellent repair . . . beautiful paved highways stretch over a land once traversed by wagon train only.

The scenic Cariboo is rich in history . . . relics of the famed gold rush days still remain. About 12 miles north of Clinton is an inspiring freak of nature, the painted chasm, which is truly a sight to see!

The Cariboo is world famous for its fishing and hunting . . . on a grand scale. The vacationer may troll for trout in Loon, Hi-Hium, Pavilion, Kelly, Big Bar, Watch and Bridge Lakes. Fly fishing is excellent in the Thompson River. Deer and moose are hunted in the fall around Loon, Hi-Hium and Meadow Lakes. Mountain sheep and bear are found in some of the more remote areas.

North of Clinton lies the cattle country. Here are found some of the province's finest ranches.

Kim Hunter's Performance Sets Paramount Shouting

HEARD IN HOLLYWOOD

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

HOLLYWOOD, June 8 (INS)—When Ann Sothern and I left Jack Warner's private showing of "Streetcar Named Desire," Ann raved about Kim Hunter and I agreed with everything she said. Well, they've seen the picture at Paramount, too, and with understandable enthusiasm are telling the world that Kim is coming on that lot for the film "Anything Can Happen."

What a surprising career Kim has had. When she left Hollywood five years ago to make a picture in London she was discouraged about her work here. But Irene Selznick met her in England and signed her for the sister role in "Streetcar" on Broadway in which she was a sensational hit. When the film was made Kim and Marlon Brando came on from the original Broadway cast and Vivien Leigh from London.

Although "Anything Can Happen" is her second film in five years everybody is predicting she's really on her way this time. Bill Perlberg is producing the Para picture and, well, Jose Ferrer is [illegible]

* * *

MOSES' LIFE ON SCREEN

Interesting, indeed, is the plan of James Login, who has played Christ in the Passion play, to bring "The life of Moses" to the screen.

"'The Life of Moses,'" Login told me, "will have the same appeal for the Jewish people that the Passion play has for Catholics and Protestants. However, we are not limiting our picture to any one religious group."

Login will play the astrologer, and act as assistant producer to Jack Eisenbach.

"We'll make 'The Life of Moses' in color," he said, "and film it mostly outdoors. We are hoping to get Francis X. Bushman to play Moses.

"Jack Eisenbach is a great student of the Bible and has always wanted to make a religious picture. This picture about Moses, written by Mary Rukner, affords that opportunity."

* * *

NAME REPLACED

When pictures written by Ben Hecht were barred from London he went to Howard Hughes and said, "please take my name off 'the thing'. (The script which he had co-authored with Charles Lederer) I don't want to hurt the picture."

Howard did as Ben requested, then last week came news that Ben was no longer banned on the English screens, so Hughes asked that the name of Hecht be reinstated. This is typical of Howard and came voluntarily on his part, and with no request from Hecht.

"The Thing," produced by Howard Hawks and Ed. Lasker, is doing phenomenal business everywhere.

* * *

TO DISCUSS THRILLERS

Bill Gargan and Mary get here [illegible] a flying trip and then off again as much as they would like to stay and enjoy their home.

Main reason for the jaunt is for Bill to talk with Charles Rogers about a series of private eye thrillers for both movies and TV. Gargan's "Martin Kane, Private Eye" series is already an established hit on television.

But before Bill makes the pictures or anything else, he takes to the road in "Silver Whistle," his first stage venture since "Animal Kingdom" with Leslie Howard years ago.

SNAPSHOTS

Clare Boothe Luce has gone to her home in Connecticut after finishing the first draft of "Pilate's Wife" at RKO. She returns in a month to finish the job.

From Lake Tahoe comes word that Rita Hayworth has taken up golf with a vengeance and is living out of doors.

The John Haskells—and in case you don't know she's Dorothy Manners—honored Jarmila Novotna with a dinner at the new Romanoff's. Mike really did himself proud and the food was par excellence, so were the table decorations and the company.

Sonja Henie and Winthrop Gardiner, Kay Williams Spreckels, J. D. Gortatowsky, Jack Warner, Richard Gully, Henry Ginsberg, Nancy Sinatra, Jimmy McHugh and Miss Manners' favorite friend and business associate, Miss Louella Parsons, were the guests.

Two happy people at the Windsor, Ty Garnett and Mari Aldon.

Clifton Webb telephoned his studio from Honolulu that his health is wonderful after the fine rest. He reports that he and Mabelle sail for home on the Lurline returning here June 20.

DISEASE PROBLEM

Although Canada's death rate from tuberculosis is only one-sixth the rate 50 years ago, there are still more than 4,000 deaths yearly.

PLENTY OF SEATS

Scotland has one moving picture theatre seat for every nine persons, compared with one in ten for Wales and one in 12 for England.

Amusements

ON THE SCREEN

Atlas—"The Mating Season" at 3.07, 6.10, 9.18, plus "Motor Patrol."

Capitol—"Only the Valiant," at 1.09, 3.11, 513, 7.15, 9.17.

Dominion—"On the Riviera," in Technicolor, at 1.00, 3.10, 5.15, 7.20, 9.30.

Fox—"Two Flags West." Complete shows at 2.05, 5.00, 7.00 and 9.00.

Oak Bay—"The Great Dan Patch." Complete shows at 6.50 and 8.50.

Plaza—"Tougher They Come" plus "Gene Autry and the Mounties."

Royal—"Father's Little Dividend," at 1.42, 3.41, 5.40, 7.39, 9.43.

Tillicum—"Sand" in Technicolor. Show starts at 9.30 p.m.

Uncle Wiggily Story

By Howard Garis

WOODIE AND WADDIE CHUCK

Buster the Rabbit Scout and Bunty the orphan rabbit were looking for Uncle Wiggily when they heard a rustling noise in the bushes. The two little rabbits did not know where Uncle Wiggily was, except that he had gone part of the way to the home of Jumpie Umple and Tumble Downie, the two yellow mice.

[illegible] Uncle Wiggily was lost in an underground hole, or burrow, into which he had hopped, thinking he might find Woodie and Waddie Chuck, the groundhog boys.

When Bunty heard the rustling noise in the bushes she had said, as I told you yesterday:

"Hark, Buster! Maybe that's Uncle Wiggily now."

"Hi, Daddy, is that you?" Buster called, for the bushes were so thick he could not see through them. "Is that you, Daddy?"

"No, it's us," answered a voice and, a moment later out of the bushes came walking Woodie and Waddie.

"Hello, Buster and Bunty!" greeted Woodie.

"What are you two doing here?" asked Waddie.

"We are looking for Uncle Wiggily," answered Bunty.

"Nurse Jane thinks he's lost," added Buster. "So she sent us after him. Have you two groundhog boys seen him?"

"I haven't," replied Woodie.

"Nor I," said Waddie. "But we'll help you look for Uncle Wiggily. Do you know which way he went?"

"Over toward where the yellow jumping mice live," said Bunty.

"That's a long way from here, past a big hill," said Woodie.

"But we will go with you as far as the hill," said Waddie.

"Could you two woodchucks go a little farther than the hill, in case we don't find Uncle Wiggily?" Bunty asked.

"Not very well," replied Woodie. "Our daddy told us not to go past the hill."

"Why?" Buster asked.

"Because," answered Waddie, "we are building a new burrow under the hill. The burrow isn't quite finished but daddy said Woodie and I could do a little digging in it before supper. So you see we can't go past the hill. Daddy told us not to."

"Oh, no, we wouldn't think of asking you," said Buster. "But maybe before we get to the burrow hill daddy will be coming back."

So the two rabbits and the two woodchucks started off together toward the hill. And, as we know, it was under that very same hill that Uncle Wiggily was lost in the underground burrow.

Now perhaps we had better find out what the rabbit gentleman is doing. You may remember that he had decided to dig his way out of the burrow since he could not find the hole by which he had come in.

Using his strong front feet for digging, as rabbits know so well how to do, Uncle Wiggily was making the dirt fly back of him as he tried to burrow out of the groundhog hole.

"It was very silly of me to go so far into the burrow that I lost my way," thought Uncle Wiggily as he dug and dug and dug. "I should have remembered that groundhogs often dig winding burrows more than 25 feet underground. They make larger burrows than do we rabbits."

Faster and faster and faster Uncle Wiggily dug and dug and dug. Then, suddenly, he broke through the ground and saw the setting sun in front of him.

"Hurray! At last I am out of the burrow!" said the rabbit. He looked around and found that he had dug himself out on the other side of the hill than that by which he had gone in. "Now I am going to hop back to my hollow stump bungalow. I won't go in any more burrows," said Mr. Longears.

So Uncle Wiggily hopped toward home. And, just about this time Buster, Bunty, Woodie and Waddie reached the hill. Then they were surprised. I will tell you about it tomorrow if the tea cup doesn't turn upside down in the saucer and spill the ice cream all over the chocolate cake.

Noted Organist Will Present Recital Here

Dr. Charles Peaker, one of Canada's foremost organists, will present a recital tonight at Metropolitan United Church.

Dr. Peaker, organist at St. Paul's Church in Toronto, will include in the recital several selections by Bach which he played over a CBC network earlier this year. Selections from the Plainsong Preludes dedicated to Dr. Peaker by composer Healey Willan are on the recital program.

Dr. Peaker has given more than 30 other recitals so far this year in both the United States and Canada. Upon completion of the tour he will conduct classes in organ playing and church music for the Royal Conservatory of Music at Toronto.

Included on the recital program are a group of vocal solos by Dr. T. H. Johns, accompanied by Edgar Holloway.

Culbertson On Bridge

The trap pass is a valuable bidding weapon, but it requires adroit handling. Certainly, it cannot be used as rashly as a certain West tried to use it in the following deal, which came up in a pair match.

East, dealer.

Both sides vulnerable.

NORTH
♠ 7 5 2
♥ 10 8 3
♦ J 10 8 6 4
♣ J 10

WEST
♠ K J 8 6

♣ 6 4

EAST
♠ 9 4 3
♥ 9 2
♦ Q 9
♣ K Q 8 7 5 3

SOUTH
♠ A Q 10
♥ A K J 7 6
♦ 5 2
♣ A 9 2

At most tables, after East's initial pass the bidding involved a heart opening by South, a double or a one-spade overcall by West, a two-club bid by East, and a takeout double by South. The final contract in all of these cases was two hearts.

At one table, however, this was the auction:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 H	Pass	Pass
2 C	Dbl.	Pass	2 H
Pass	Pass	Dbl.(!)	Pass
Pass	Pass

Although it was West who earned the major share of the blame in this case, by passing over one heart (undoubtedly, with "trapping" in mind) and then doubling two hearts, it is only fair to observe that East also had a finger in the pie. Vulnerable against nonvulnerable opponents, his reopening bid of two clubs was certainly questionable, to put it mildly. True, North had shown weakness by failing to hold the bidding open, but East had no right to think his partner had made a trap pass, with the vulnerability what it was.

Going back to West's part in this affair, it is hard to see how he justified his double of two hearts. Surely, he could not expect to make every honor in his hand, and it was extremely optimistic to look to East for more than one trick, considering his original pass.

The double gave North-South a clear top on the board. West opened the diamond king, and when he saw East's nine, laid down the diamond ace in hope that East had a singleton. He then shifted to a club, but South won, cashed the heart ace, then led a low heart! The result was that South made 870 points!

By International News Service

The white-hot Chicago White Sox, slightly chastened in the opener of their four-game showdown series with the New York Yankees, resume the battle today with their biggest gun ready for the world champions.

The Sox who had their American League lead cut to 3½ games when they lost to the Yanks, 4-2, last night will call on Billy Pierce, their seven-game-winning southpaw, today.

Manager Casey Stengel of the Yanks plans to counter with the unpredictable Frank Shea.

RECORD CROWD

The White Sox and Yankees attracted a record Comiskey park attendance of 53,940 last night for the curtain-raiser of the series that may determine whether the Sox' pennant bid is anything more than a flash in the pan.

Eddie Robinson homered with one on off Vic Raschi in the third for the white Sox, but the Yankees nicked Ken Holcombe for two runs in the fourth and two more in the fifth.

It was Raschi's ninth win against three setbacks and Holcombe's third loss against four victories.

EIGHTH WIN

Cleveland moved within one game of third place as Bob Feller tamed the Boston Red Sox, 7-1. Feller scattered seven hits in winning his eighth victory against one loss.

Only one National League game survived a rainy night in the east. In that one, the St. Louis Cardinals' Joe Presko outpitched Max Surkont of the Boston Braves, 2-1, with both Red Bird runs coming on errors by Bob Elliott.

It was Presko's fifth straight win and his sixth of the year. A ninth-inning homer by Walker Cooper robbed him of a shutout.

The triumph broke the Cards' second-place deadlock with the idle Cincinnati Reds, and also dropped the Braves into fifth place behind rained-out New York.

Centennial Meet Boasts Champion in Each Event

A champion in every event shows the class of the junior section of the Y.M.C.A. Centennial international track and field meet' to be held at the Victoria High School cinder track on June 19. The juniors will be competing for the Victoria city junior championships.

From the 100-yard dash to the mile there is real class in every junior event. Bruce Springhett, Vancouver city champion, will be wearing the colors of the Vancouver Arctic Club in the 100 and 220-yard sprints. Vancouver Quadra Club's Doug Clement, provincial inter-high school champion and record-breaker in the 440 and 880, will contest both events. One of his toughest competitors will be Victoria's Ted Whan, who just lost out in the inter-high school meet.

NEW TROPHY

The winner of the 440 will be presented with the Joe Addison Memorial Trophy, a new perpetual trophy in honor of Victoria's greatest 440-runner. Addison ran in the 1936 Olympics and lost his life with the R.C.A.F. during the Second World War. Chief of Police John Blackstock will make the presentation.

The mile, always a classic, features provincial inter-high school champion Don Burgess of the "Y" and runner-up Jerry Downes of Quadra Club. Downes vows to reverse the inter-high result when Burgess set a new record naval cadets' team in the mile

SURPRISE ENTRY

A surprise entry in the open events is Dave McKenzie, who ran for Great Britain in the 1948 Olympics. Although supposedly retired, McKenzie has entered the open 220 in "a burst of over-enthusiasm" and will anchor the naval cadets' team in the mile relay. McKenzie is coaching the cadet team.

Coach Bruce Humber of the Y.M.C.A. team said last night that a total of '35 entries have already been received. Preliminary heats will be necessary in all sprints and will start at 6 p.m. Finals will start at 7 with the open mile, which features an international field of top distance runners.

Tickets are on sale at the Y.M.C.A. desk and 1006 Douglas Street. All proceeds will be used to provide equipment for Victoria track and field stars.

Synthetic Mat Murder Delights Rasslin' Crowd

By BARNEY McKINLEY

Rasslin' came back to Victoria with a grand body slam last night.

Before an estimated 1,200 yelling fans the heavyweight-type matmen scored an applause fall over a local audience accustomed so far this year to the gentler antics of light-heavies.

Promoter Rocky Brooks spared no expense or trouble, he said, to bring in the toughest performers known to rasslin' annals.

He didn't go far wrong. The boys—top stars in the grunt and groan firmament—went all the way to give the popular local promoter a good start on his Memorial Arena Friday night fight festivals.

Main event rassler Dr. Len Hall lost his temper during his bout with colored muscleman Seelie Samara and stormed off the card, vowing never to return.

"At least," moaned the erstwhile dentist, "not unless this leg feels better. Can you give me a day to decide whether or not I'll fight that man again?"

LOUDLY

The sentiments expressed by the good doctor were proclaimed in a loud voice despite his odd-fall win in his two-out-of-three falls, one-hour struggle with the dusky-skinned Samara.

Samara, meanwhile, was quoted as demanding in no uncertain terms a rematch with Dr. Hall. On the mat face of it the 235-pound Boston, Mass., colored colossus was well within his rights.

He lost the final fall on a fluke, the fans felt, after handing the rough tough ex-dentist more bumps than a gourd. Samara accidentally caromed referee Nick Harris out of the ring before body slamming Dr. (I'll fight 'im if you say so) Hall into semi-insensibility.

Unfortunately for Samara, Hall recovered before the half-stunned referee got back into the ring.

SLUGGED

So . . . while the colored rassler was explaining it all, Dr. (Watch This Operation) Hall sneaked up and put the slug on him.

That ended the match after each of the body beautifuls had scored a single fall.

The rest of the card was in keeping with the main event.

As a result of his crowd-pleasing win over Ralph Garibaldi, New York, 250-pound murder man Danny Plechas of Omaha, Neb., may be moved up to a semifinal spot next Friday.

Last night he scored a one-fall win in the 30-minute special event.

In the semi, Joe Dusek, a brother member of the famous Dusek "Riot Squad," toughed it out over Montreal's long-haired George Pavich, two-out-of-three falls.

Bill Swikert, 228, Vallejo, Calif., and Bob Geigel, 216, Altoona, Iowa, slugged to a draw in the 20-minute opener.

Grid Moguls To Discuss Raiding Issue

HAMILTON, June 8 (CP).—The westward movement of Eastern Canada football talent will likely be among the issues before the Inter-Provincial Football Union at its annual meeting here tomorrow.

C. C. Lawson of Hamilton, president of the big four league, said it was possible that the clubs would discuss the question of raiding, still reported to be going on despite a new waiver ruling.

Officials of the Hamilton Tiger-Cats said they are concerned with a ruling under which Toronto Argonauts could claim their former player, Doug Pyzer, if he leaves Edmonton Eskimos. The Hamilton club is interested in getting Pyzer and talked with him here last week.

The Tiger-Cats also claim Western clubs are making big-money approaches to their junior players despite a Big Four ruling.

"We can't possibly match the huge sums being offered some of our youngsters by those Western teams," a Hamilton official said.

Poles Warned They May Lose Davis Cup Bid

MILAN, June 8 (AP).—The Italian Tennis Federation today warned the Polish Federation that Poland would forfeit its Davis Cup chances if it did not show up with a team in Venice by tomorrow for the second-round match.

Poland proposed unofficially—through a broadcast from Warsaw by the official Polish press agency—that the series be shifted to Warsaw. Italian officials said they had received no official notice but it would be rejected.

The last time the Polish team played out of the country—against Switzerland at Zurich last month—Poland's No. 1 player, Wladyslaw Skonecki, disappeared. He later turned up in France where he has remained a political exile.

Rangers Get Gaye Stewart For Leswick

NEW YORK, June 8 (CP).—In a move to obtain much-needed scoring power, New York Rangers of the National Hockey League today traded little Tony Leswick to Detroit for sharpshooter Gaye Stewart.

Both are left-wingers.

The swap was on a straight player basis and involved no cash, the Rangers announced. It also was the second off-season deal the Rangers have made in an attempt to rebuild the team that finished out of the Stanley Cup playoffs this spring and missed a fourth-place tie by a single point.

Philadelphia Phils have sold outfielder Dick Whitman to St. Paul of the American Association.

Chinese Students stretched their lead to three points in the Senior "A" Men's Softball League with a convincing 8-2 triumph over B.C. Forest Products at Upper Central last night.

Although looking far from dangerous at the plate, Forest Products got men on base in all but the eighth inning and left seven runners stranded.

Stan Tenning, who has appeared in almost all of the Students' games this season, went the distance for the front-runners. He gave up five scattered hits and, although wild at times, struck out four and walked only three. It was his fifth victory without defeat.

Young Barry Jackson was the Logger hurler and was charged with his fifth loss. The unfortunate Jackson, who has pitched good ball in all of his starts gave up eight hits.

Quinton Mar, who replaced Tom Derr in the outfield when the latter sprained his ankle, paced the Student attack with triples in the seventh and ninth innings, driving in three runs.

Loggers started their most dangerous rally in the bottom of the ninth when a walk and a pair of singles gave them their second run. A smart double play, started by second baseman Eddie Dorohoy, ended the threat.

Navy scored its ninth victory in the senior "B" men's softball league by defeating Esquimalt, 14-11, last night.

A seven-run outburst in the fourth inning gave the Sailors the edge. Trailing 14-5 going into the ninth Esquimalt erupted for six hits and as many runs before they were retired.

Marcucci Tops Loop With .370

Lilio Marcucci, Victoria Athletics' catcher-third baseman, retained his Western International League batting lead through games of Thursday.

Official league figures released yesterday show Marcucci batting at a .370 clip, two points better than Vancouver's Dick Sinovic, who displaced Don Pries of the A's as runner-up. The Victoria second baseman is third with a .363 mark.

Victoria players dominate the home run department. Bill White shares the lead with Tri-City's Vic Buccola with seven. Hal Jackson is next with six and Marcucci is tied with two others with five each.

Leaders follow:

Sox President Sure of Flag

CHICAGO, June 8 (INS).—Vice-president Charles Comiskey of the Chicago White Sox said otday he doesn't believe that any team in the American League can beat his club out of the pennant.

Comiskey told several hundred fans at a "pre-pennant rally" for the White Sox that his team has "beaten them all." He added:

"We have the best club we have had in 15 or 20 years and we hope to be celebrating the pennant in October."

Victoria Athletics jumped to the top of the second division in the Western International League last night behind the pitching and batting of slim Jim Propst.

The slender southpaw had his fast ball hopping and turned in his second successive three-hit job as the A's edged Salem Senators 2-1 in the opener of a four-game series at Salem. A sweep of the series will put the A's in third place, ahead of the Senators whom they now trail by two games.

In fashioning his second straight victory and third of the season, Propst struck out nine and walked six but weakened again in the ninth. Big John Marshall came in with two out and the tying run on third and forced Bill Beard to ground out to shortstop Bob Sturgeon.

The A's have now won six games in June and Propst, Bill Osborn and John Tierney have accounted for them all, winning two each.

[illegible] Pete Tedeschi in the first and another one-base knock to Glen Stetter in the sixth. He had a two-hit shutout going into the ninth when Curt Schmidt singled after Stetter had opened the inning with a walk to put Propst in trouble. The runners were advanced by a sacrifice. Pinch-hitter George McDonald grounded to Sturgeon in deep short but there was no time to make a play at the plate. Stetter scored and Schmidt moved to third as McDonald was thrown out at first. Then Marshall came in and retired the final batter.

Propst batted in the winning run in the sixth when he singled with two out to drive in Bill White, who opened the inning with a double, from second. Singles by Mary Diercks and Don Pries and Lilio Marcucci's long fly sent in Diercks with the first run in the first inning.

Vancouver Capilanos continued their fast pace by defeating Wenatchee Chiefs, 4-2, as Bob Snyder chalked up his 10th victory against one defeat. Synder gave up five hits, one a two-run homer by Will Hafey. The Caps scored all their runs in the fourth with Gordie Brunswick's triple and Charlie Mead's double doing most of the damage. All the runs were unearned.

Maynard Park, Spokane's rookie southpaw, turned in a brilliant relief job to take credit for the second-place Indians' 6-5 win over Yakima. Park replaced John Conant in the sixth and gave up only one hit.

Score of the Tacoma-Tri-City game was not available at press time.

Next game, tonight: Vancouver at Nanaimo.

VANCOUVER, June 8 (CP).—Nanaimo was responsible for a record being set in the Inter-City Lacrosse League tonight.

The island team took on North Shore Indians and finished on the tail end of a 25-6 score.

The 25 goals that passed by Nanaimo goalie Fred Fulla was a record for the year, and the 61 shots taken by the Indian players in scoring the goals was a record for the past two.

Both teams started slowly compared with the devastating finish. The first quarter score was 3-2 in favor of North Shore.

UNFAVORABLE

Then unfavorable things began happening to Nanaimo's defense and at halftime the island club trailed 9-2. This was increased to 14-3 going into the last quarter.

Biggest scoring margin was in the last period, with the winners running in 11 goals to the visitors three.

Mario Crema and Marino Cervi were the big scorers for North Shore. Crema finished the evening with five goals and an assist, compared with Cervi's four goals and one assist.

Jack Scott of Nanaimo led the losers with two goals.

Board, Judge Could Rule On Purse Issue

A board of arbitration or a judge can be appointed now to rule on the current Vancouver horseracing dispute, Attorney-General Gordon Wismer stated yesterday.

A racing commission, requested by the Horsemen's Benevolent and Protective Association, cannot be named at this time. The attorney-general said a commission must be created by the legislature.

Neither a board of arbitration nor a commission would have power to force horse owners to enter their horses at various tracks, he added.

Dispute between owners and track interests involves size of purses. The tracks agree to purses of $850, while horse-owners want $950.

Fleming Gains Seven Strokes

Bob Fleming of the Gorge Vale Golf Club will carry a seven-stroke lead into the final 36 holes of the city golf championship at his home course tomorrow.

Fleming gained his lead by firing a 73 and a 71 in the first 36 holes last week. Clubmate Vic Lowe is his nearest pursuer.

Acting Mayor Lauds Victory Of All-Stars

Acting Mayor Dr. J. D. Hunter yesterday praised the play of Victoria All-Stars against the Fulham soccer team.

"I enjoyed the game and I would like to congratulate the Victoria team for its showing," Dr. Hunter said. "The players did themselves proud.

"I do not like to single out stars but I thought Joe Travis played the greatest game I have ever seen him play," he added.

Dr. Hunter said he was sorry that such a small crowd turned out to see the mighty visitors humbled. He thought the Fulham team gave a good game although it was unable to finish off its attacks.

"Although the defeat is a blow to Fulham's reputation, it should boost soccer in Victoria considerably," Dr. Hunter stated.

The Sports Grill

By PAT ROBINSON

NEW YORK, June 8 (INS).—When you look back over some of the stumblebums we have had as heavyweight champions you wonder why so many fail to give the current champion, Ezzard Charles, the recognition he deserves.

It has been only eight months since he won the title and in that short time he has successfully defended his crown eight times. What's more, he has not ducked anybody.

Believe it or not, he already has defended his title more in eight months than Jack Dempsey did in seven years. Joe Louis made more title defenses—25—and that number was stretched over a period of 12 years and included all the round heels they could find for his bum of the month club.

Gene Tunney made two title defenses and retired. Max Schmeling lost the title the second time he fought after winning it. Jack Sharkey was beaten in his first title defense. Primo Carnera lost his third title defense fight. Max Baer lost it the first time he defended it.

Jim Braddock beat Baer for the title and lost it to Louis in his next fight.

All this is beyond argument. It's a matter of record and you can't get away from it.

Among all those you could rate only Tunney as smarter or more clever than Charles. Of course, Louis and Dempsey could hit harder.

And that brings us to an interesting point: which type of fighter does more permanent damage—a Louis or Dempsey, or a Tunney or Charles?.

It always has been our contention that, if forced to, we would rather fight either Louis and Dempsey than Tunney or Charles.

Let's say you fight either Louis or Dempsey. What happens? Perhaps he stiffens you in a punch or two and next day you wake up with a sore jaw and a headache.

But what happens if you are good enough to stick around with Tunney or Charles for 15 rounds, what happens?

Having seen most of the victims of all four of them, we can tell you. With Tunney or Charles you are cut to ribbons, as Tunney cut Dempsey and as Charles cut Joey Maxim the other night.

You have cuts over and under your eyes, ribs and stomach that may be sore for weeks, and knobs on your skull.

Ask Jack Dempsey how much permanent damage a Tunney can do to you. Sure, Gene wouldn't knock you dead with a punch but don't let anybody tell you that any man that weighs 180 or more can't hurt you, no matter how light a puncher he is supposed to be.

Dempsey refused a chance to make another million in a third Tunney fight because he rightly figured he might be blinded for life.

And any number of veteran fighters will tell you that one severe beating, such as Charles can hand out for 15 rounds, leaves a permanent effect.

It is the Tunneys and Charles' of the ring who make their victims punch-drunk. So don't let anybody tell you that Charles can't hurt you or that he can't fight. He can do both.

Gardnar Mulloy Defeats Vancouver's Lorne Main

MANCHESTER, England, June 8 (CP)—Veteran Gardnar Mulloy overpowered Lorne Main of Vancouver 6-0, 6-3 today to advance to the men's singles finals in the northern England tennis championships.

In the final tomorrow Mulloy will meet Australia's Don Candy, who whipped Hal Burrows 6-3, 6-0 in the other semifinal.

Mulloy's whistling service kept Main in hot water constantly and the American's attacking strokes never gave the Vancouver netman a chance.

At first Mulloy was scheduled to meet another Canadian Davis cupper, Montreal's Brendan Macken. But it was discovered today that Main had beaten Macken 6-4, 6-4, in a quarter-final match Thursday, instead of the reverse. The umpire had announced the wrong winner.

OUT OF DOUBLES

Main and Macken were eliminated from the doubles today, losing their semifinal 3-6, 6-3, 7-5 to D. Lurie of South Africa and W. T. Anderson of Britain.

Mulloy and Burrows eliminated A. Segal and W. R. Seymour of South Africa 6-8, 6-2, 6-2.

In women's singles, Doris Hart won her way into the finals with a 6-2, 6-4 victory over Althea Gibson, American Negro champion.

In the other semifinal, Beverly Baker edged Betty Rosenquest 9-7, 6-4.

Golf--- Here's How

By SAM SNEAD
Golf's Greatest Player-Teacher

In the short iron shot your left foot remains firmly on the ground with little or no lifting of the left heel. This is possible because the hip pivot is less and you make only a three-quarter instead of a full swing with the short irons. You keep the body action at a minimum in a short iron swing, which is an upright swing and in this way you get the correct flight for the ball from the loft of the club. As you swing down, you delay the uncocking of the hands until they have reached the point pictured. Here the left leg has begun to brace smoothly while the left arm and shoulder are swinging the club down in to the ball. You must always be careful not to rush a three-quarter swing. From this point on, the wrists begin to uncock and provide the snap that delivers the power. A short iron shot is a precision shot to a definite spot on the green and calls for great care—and concentration. Remember that—concentrate.

Out 48 Hours, Fighter Rallies

WASHINGTON, June 8 (INS).—Elijah "Little Dynamite" Williams, Washington featherweight, rallied slightly today in his fight for life. But he remained unconscious from a tenth-round knockout Thursday night.

The fighter's physician, Dr. William Spence, said Williams' chances of pulling through have improved from "50-50 to 60 to 40 in his favor."

Dr. Spence said the 21-year-old Negro "mumbled a few words and occasionally opened his eyes today but never fully regained consciousness."

Revamped Stars To Meet Fulham

VANCOUVER, June 8 (CP).—Fulham's touring soccer squad, which couldn't beat Victoria last night, will face a revamped B.C. All-Star side tomorrow when it returns to the grassless pitch at Callister Park.

All-Stars' manager, Bob Harrison, announced he is shuffling his team, which lost 2-0 to Fulham Tuesday night.

Most notable absentee will be centre-forward Fred Whittaker. Harrison said big Fred isn't quite fit and that Frank Amber will switch to centre from left wing.

Latin Seven Points Up In Goodall Round Robin

NEW ROCHELLE, N.Y., June 8 (INS).—Roberto de Vincenzo of Argentina shot two sizzling sub-par 68s today to take a seven-point lead in the Goodall round robin golf tournament at New Rochelle.

De Vincenzo had a plus 24 point total. He was followed by Bobby Locke of South Africa with plus 17 and Jim Ferrier with plus 13.

De Vincenzo also paced the 16 crack pros in stroke-for-stroke scoring with a 69-68-68—205. Jimmy Demaret, who was plus 10 in points, had a 208 total, while Locke, Ferrier and Freddie Haas, Jr., all carded 209 for 54 holes of play.

Scores in the Goodall credit or discredit a man one point for each stroke separating him and the other three players with whom he plays each 18-hole round.

Other 54-hole scores, with cards in parenthesis: Lloyd Mangrum (213) plus 7; Haas (209) plus 5; Johnny Palmer (212) plus 4; Jack Burke, Jr. (212) plus 2; Herman Barron (212) plus 2; Clayton Haefner (211) minus 1; Porky Oliver (215) minus 6; Cary Middlecoff (212) minus 6; Henry Ransom (213) minus 7; Chick Harbert (218) minus 10; Al Brosch (218) minus 20; Chandler Harper (221) minus 34.

Fuelmen Downed

Four runs were scored by 119 Battery in the bottom of the seventh to defeat Island Fuel, 8-5, in a Senior "C" Men's Softball League game at Beacon Hill Park last night.

The Fuelmen had taken the lead twice before the Soldiers came through with their big rally.

South African Cricketer Bats 208 in Test Match

NOTTINGHAM, England, June 8 (Reuters). — Dudley Nourse, South African cricket captain, today scored 208 runs against England in the first Test match of the season. He then declared his team's first innings closed at 483 for nine.

That left England with five minutes to bat at the end of the second of five scheduled days. The home side lost one wicket for only four runs.

In the course of his 9¼-hour innings, Nourse put together the highest South African score ever registered in 75 matches between the two countries, beating the 1947 record of 189 held jointly by Alan Melville and Bruce Mitchell. His run-scoring blows included 25 fours.

Wall Street Market Dips As Brokers Take Day Off

By The Associated Press

Prices settled uneasily into lower levels in a quiet New York Stock Market session yesterday.

The dip was light, and several futile attempts to make progress created a ragged pattern about the fall.

The annual outing of the New York Bond Club took hundreds of Wall Streeters out of town.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost ten cents at $92.80.

Trading came to only 1,000,000 shares, the second slowest day in 20 months.

The market narrowed down to 1,053 individual issues traded, of which 311 advanced and 480 declined.

National Distillers up ⅜ at 30¼ was the day's most active issue with 14,000 shares traded.

SMALL CHANGES

On the Toronto Stock Market, prices slipped in dull trading. Changes were mostly small and many issues were unchanged.

In industrials papers, foods refining oils, steels, liquors and manufacturing companies showed a majority of losses. Constructions were ahead and the rest of the board was mixed.

Base metals declined slowly. Western oils showed losses ranging to about 20 cents.

TRIFLE FIRMER

In Montreal, securities eased slightly towards the close on the Stock Exchange and Curb Market after opening a trifle firmer.

Losses held a good margin over gains, with a fairly large number of issues unchanged. Variations in either direction were mainly small fractions.

Papers and senior metals led the minor decline and were followed by utilities.

The industrial section was irregularly easier. Beverages and senior oils were narrowly mixed while carriers and banks were slightly firmer.

VANCOUVER ACTIVE

Trading was active on the Vancouver Stock Exchange with base metals prices strengthened. Oils were mixed and golds remained unchanged.

On the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, prices generally showed an easier tone in response to increased offerings prompted by good rains on the prairies.

Commercial demand was thin, except in barley where processor and export buying was indicated. Oats received small support from shippers. Rye and flax were bought by American interests.

Prices of all grains moved narrowly at the close, with oats and rye showing the largest losses.

There were no reports of export loadings of Canadian wheat.

Class II wheat prices went up one cent from yesterday. I.W.A. prices were unchanged.

Frost, Rain, Snow Mar Western Crop Report

WINNIPEG, June 8 (CP) — Frost, rain and snow marked western crop weather during the last week, the weekly crop reports of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways showed today.

The C.N.R. report said tem[illegible] some Saskatchewan points, with light frosts reported over a wide area in the west.

Gardens were severely damaged, but grain crops, although set back, will recover, and reseeding of some flax acreage may be necessary due to frost damage. Seeding of all crops is nearing completion in Manitoba and Saskatchewan and good headway now is being made of coarse grains in Alberta.

Good rains occurred in most southern sections during the last 24 hours, with heavy snow reported in southern Alberta.

The C.P.R. report said the rains which started in Manitoba and Saskatchewan Wednesday ranged from moderate to fairly heavy and improved surface moisture conditions.

In Alberta, moisture conditions generally were favorable, with excess surface moisture in some areas delaying seeding. A general requirement in all three prairie provinces is warm, sunny weather.

Average height of wheat in Manitoba is four inches, three in Saskatchewan and Alberta. Seeding is completed in Manitoba, 98 per cent in Saskatchewan and 90 per cent in Alberta.

NEW YORK, June 8 (AP)—William F. Kerby today was elected vice-president of Dow Jones Company, publishers of the Wall Street Journal of which he was formerly executive editor.

Buren H. McCormack, Wall Street Journal senior associate editor, was named executive editor.

Vermont C. Royster, associate editor, was appointed senior associate editor.

C.N.R. Will Build Link to Minerals

MONTREAL, June 8 (CP). — Canada's minerals boom took another surge today with the announcement that the Canadian National Railways plan to spend $14,500,000 building a 155-mile rail link with northern Manitoba nickel and copper deposits.

Transport Minister Chevrier inserted a notice of motion in the order paper of parliament that the government will ask approval of a bill permitting the C.N.R. to issue public bonds to raise the money.

The proposed line will run from Sherridon, Man., north to Lynn Lake where production of nickel, copper and other defense materials is expected to hit $14,000,000 yearly. The vast mineral field, being developed by Sherritt-Gordon Mines, is in rough terrain, accessible only by air and winter road from Winnipeg, 550 miles south.

MINING PLANT

Sherritt-Gordon already has arranged to raise nearly $30,000,000 to bring its Lynn Lake property into production. A 2,000-ton-a-day mining plant will be built on the Laurie River.

To take advantage of Alberta's natural gas fields, a nickel refinery will be built there.

Once the new C.N.R. line is ready, probably late in 1953, Sherritt will transfer its operations from Sherridon to Lynn Lake. Estimated annual production of minerals is 8,400 tons of nickel, 3,400 tons of copper, 100 tons of cobalt, 1,500 tons of copper sulphide and 72,000 tons of ammonium sulphate.

The office of Donald Gordon, C.N.R. president, issued a statement saying 17 engineers now are in the northern Manitoba wilderness to survey a route for the rail extension.

The bill sponsored by Mr. Chevrier will authorize "temporary loans" from the public treasury so the C.N.R. may start construction immediately. It was intimated previously the government may put up about $5,000,000 to get the program moving.

Packers Battle Meat Ceilings; Shortage Seen

CHICAGO, June 8 (INS)—The nation's 12 major livestock markets, in the middle of a battle over live beef price ceilings, ended their week today with the lowest five-day receipts of cattle in more than three years.

Cattle sent to the markets since the Office of Price Stabilization rolled back beef animal prices Monday totaled 122,100 head—the smallest week's supply since April, 1948. Last week, only a four-day operation because of the Memorial Day holiday, 141,600 cattle were marketed.

The sub-normal shipments, coupled with a virtual halt in buying and slaughtering of cattle by the major meat packers, are expected to result in a shortage of beef in the butcher shops next week.

In Chicago, meat packers, cattlemen and O.P.S. officials agreed that the beef shortage will last at least until July 1, when cattlemen will see whether controls will be extended. If they are, the cattlemen are expected to rush their animals to market to beat another rollback scheduled for August 1.

Meanwhile, Ralph Helstein, president of the C.I.O. United Packinghouse Workers, demanded an investigation into beef scarcities. In a telegram to price stabilizer Michael di Salle, Helstein said "hundreds of packinghouse workers are being laid off."

London Market Scores Gains

LONDON, June 8 (Reuters) — Good dividends and results again decided the trend of prices in the industrial section of the London Stock Exchange today.

Courtaulds moved up following the payment of 1½ per cent for the year against 7½ per cent.

Gains were made by newspapers on the bonus from The Daily Mirror.

Tobaccos and engineerings were firm while other rayons improved in sympathy with the Courtaulds results.

British government funds were better where changed. Buyers again selected the long-dated issues, and there was a firm tone in gilts and Anglo-Iranian at 5½.

Trading in foreign bonds was small. Shares hardened and there were useful gains in coppers.

Stock closing: Babcock & Wilcox 62s 3d; Boots Pure Drug 53s 4½d; Canadian Pacific $81⅞; Central Mining £2¼; Consolidated Gold Fields 46s 10½d; Courtaulds 51s 1½d; Hudson's Bay Co. 118s 6d; Imperial Chemical 53s 6d; Imperial Tobacco 108s; Metal Box 53s 6d; Mexican Eagle 23s 9d; Rand Mines 143s 9d.

Bonds: British 3½ per cent Consols £85⅝; British 1½ per cent war loans £88½; British Fundings 4's, 1960-1990, £103 13/16.

Standard Oil To Split Stock

LINDEN, N.J., June 8 (AP)—Stockholders of the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey today approved a 2-for-1 split in the company's capital stock.

The stock split calls for each outstanding share of the capital stock with its par value of $25 a share to be changed into two shares with a par value of $15 a share.

Total authorized capital stock was changed from 35,000,000 to 70,000,000 shares.

Gold Traders Eye Elections

PARIS, June 8 (Reuters) — Steady conditions ruled on the Paris gold market during the week.

Interest centred in the coming French elections. Any progress by the Communist Party would lead to increased demand for gold, in the opinion of prominent traders.

These circles considered significant the fact that improvements this week were restricted almost to the napoleon whereas the gold ingot finished slightly lower.

Foreign Exchange

MONTREAL, June 8 (CP). —The American dollar today closed at 7 1/16 per cent premium to the Canadian dollar, up 3/32 from Thursday's close. That is, it took $1.07 1/16 Canadian to buy $1 American.

The pound sterling was $2.99⅝, up ⅛ from Thursday.

STUDY FOOD CONTROL

The Council of Social Agencies will study Mrs. Barbara Green's proposal to establish a surplus food distribution centre at the public market.

City council's welfare committee yesterday recommended to the finance committee that this course of action be taken. Previously, the finance committee had referred the suggestion to the welfare committee.

Mrs. Green asked for permission to use a market stall after hours for distribution of surplus goods to needy families. She said the plan may not be workable, but she thought it worthy of trial.

Ratepayers to Oppose Request for Fare Increase

NANAIMO, June 8.—A 10 per cent general fare increase recently requested by Vancouver Island Coach Lines will be opposed by the Vancouver Island Ratepayers' Association.

G. F. Bonner of Cobble Hill, president of the association, said the matter will be a major point under discussion at the association's meeting here next Saturday.

A brief from the South Cowichan Ratepayers' Association calling for complete revision of the B.C. H.I.S. will also be introduced at the meeting.

Veteran City Detectives Retire

City police last night honored detectives Henry Jarvis, right, and Fearon Woodburn, second from right, both retiring at 60 after 30 years with police force. Police Magistrate Henry Hall, left, presented pair with cheques from Victoria Police Mutual Benefit Association. Wishes for "long and pleasant retirement" came from Victoria Police Commission in letters read by commissioners James Neely and Brent Murdoch and police chief John Blackstock. Detectives also received pen and pencil sets from Victoria City Police Union. — Colonist photo.)

Poison Worries Mothers

Esquimalt residents who have raised complaints about rats infesting their neighborhood are now up in arms over action by "officials" in spreading rat poison "where children can get at it."

Sooke Man Sells Story For Movie

Sooke author Garnett Weston has sold a full-length serial story, "Married ... " to 20th Century Fox studios.

The story ran recently in The Saturday Evening Post beginning April 7.

Mr. Weston has lived at Sooke for the past eight years after spending 20 years as a writer in Hollywood. He has written many successful novels and scripts.

He said yesterday 20th Century had offered him a contract to return to Hollywood to write the movie script, but he admitted he did not wish to return to that rat race.

He said he knew little about the proposed cast or location, but expected the studio would start shooting sometime in the fall.

Mr. Weston thinks Sooke is "a wonderful spot, although sometimes a little quiet ... a man ... has managed to get an insane fiction writer," he said yesterday.

PLAYGROUNDS NEEDED

Need for playgrounds in the eastern part of Victoria was stressed by John Halstead, chairman of the playground committee of the Greater Victoria Recreation Council, in a letter to the city yesterday.

He referred in particular to the district where two years ago 50 wartime houses were constructed. The people, he explained, have formed the Redfern Playground Club and are prepared to help.

OK—SO I'M CRAZY
You can buy two semi-commercial buildings beside Dairy on town side. But what do you do with the other? Why not buy a separate building and make it a real money maker? Or, if there is a lake, why not build with shower rooms for a fifth suite with front and shower already installed. It can be done for a couple new blocks and a few days work. Contained heating, that's the time and cash. Buy it for $12,800
BUT YOU CAN!

Warships Off Again On Training Cruise

MARINE AND TRAVEL NEWS

After an overnight breather on their return from a 10-day cruise to Los Angeles the destroyer Crusader and the frigates Antigonish and Beacon Hill were on the go again yesterday.

The three ships, engaged in an intensive summer training program, reached Esquimalt Thursday morning from Los Angeles. Yesterday they left for Bedwell Harbor, North Pender Island, on another training exercise. They will return Wednesday.

A chief engineer officer of the C.P.R. coastal steamship fleet, who was due for retirement in three weeks, died yesterday on board the steamship Princess Elizabeth on the way from Victoria to Vancouver.

He was John McLennan, 65, who had sailed on B.C. coastal steamships for 32 years.

He was found dead in his cabin after he failed to report for duty at 7 a.m.

He had been under the care of a doctor for some time and is believed to have suffered a heart seizure during the night.

Officers aboard the Princess Elizabeth said McLennan attended the Victoria-Fulham soccer game Thursday. They believe the excitement may have been too much for him.

He is survived by his widow. Funeral arrangements are not completed.

* * *

Extensive arrangements have been made for newspaper and radio men of the Pacific northwest to cover the arrival of Ss. Princess of Nanaimo due here Monday from her building place in Scotland.

Latest addition to the C.P.R.'s coast fleet, Princess of Nanaimo will reach Esquimalt at 10.30 a.m. Newspapermen of Victoria, Vancouver and Seattle will leave the Inner Harbor at 8 a.m. aboard a tug and board the Princess at William Head.

She will tie up alongside the government drydock and will enter the basin as soon after as possible. There the 358-foot ship will undergo a final painting, and have protective boarding removed from portholes and windows.

FINAL TOUCHES

Finishing touches will be applied at the company's Inner Harbor docks.

Although her name is Princess of Nanaimo, already the vessel is being referred to as "Princess Nanaimo."

She will make two return trips daily between Nanaimo and Vancouver. Designed especially for the run, she can carry 1,500 daytime passengers and about 100 cars.

Twin Exhibition

Toppers of the Victoria Women's Softball League and Chez Marcel of the Coldwood and District loop will play an exhibition double-header at Lower Central Park tomorrow. The first game will start at 2 p.m. and the second at 4 p.m.

Big Ones in Spring Salmon Run

How would you sports fishermen like to hook into a prize like this! This 25-pound spring salmon was but one of many brought to B.C. Packers Ltd. yesterday by commercial fisherman M. M. Robertson, 356 Vincent Street. He has been operating off west coast, out of Ucluelet and Bamfield, aboard troller Arabella II. About 50 Victoria vessels are fishing in area, he reported, but catches to date have been "only fair." Some vessels are going up to 18 miles offshore. Springs comprise most catches, along with few small cohos. Fishermen are hoping for early improvement in catches along entire west coast of island.—(Colonist photo by Bud Kinsman.)

Workers Needed in City As Jobless at New Low

Workers are at a premium in Victoria.

Latest reports from the National Employment Service Office here said the total of unemployed—both male and female—recorded a new low for this period of the year.

The number of unfilled job vacancies had reached a new high for the week ending June 7.

Suitable applicants for skilled tradesman and specialist positions are becoming increasingly hard to find, the report from manager C. A. Mudge said.

EVERY TYPE OF WORK

Locally, cooks, tailors, fur cutter, hook tender, head sawyer, assistant lighthouse keeper, bricklayers, sign painter, plumber, roofers, lathe hand, machinist, sheet metal workers, rivetters, welders, molder, loftsmen, seamen and young active laborers, were being sought.

Unfilled job vacancies in the women's division were also at a new high for the year. Badly needed are fully-experienced stenographers, waitresses, fitter-alterationists with sales experience, and, especially, domestic workers.

More than 500 jobs were listed with the local N.E.S. office's clearance files for jobs across Canada. Every type of work from laborer through graduate engineers to salesmen and dieticians was on the list.

How It Started

'SHOEMAKER'S CHILDREN HAVE NO SHOES'

"When we see a man illshod, if he chance to be a shoemaker, we say commonly none goes worse shod than they. Even so experience does often show us, a physician less healthy, a divine less reformed, a wise man less sufficient than another."

In this quotation from the French philosopher and essayist, Montaigne, we have an early version of the saying about shoemaker's children having no shoes, and what is more interesting—a definite explanation of the meaning of this metaphor, then as now.

At roughly the same time an English philosophical writer, Robert Burton, put it, "Him that makes shoes goes barefoot himself." Indeed, few sayings have further stimulated the virtuosity of writers in varying its form. James Kelly, in his "Scottish Proverbs," published in 1721, put it this way, "None worse shod than the shoemaker's wife, and the smith's mare."

The shoemaker's wife came into the picture a couple of centuries before Kelly's picturesque nod to her. This occurred in the first recorded expression of the idea, namely, in the "Proverbes" of John Heywood, published in 1546, as follows:

"But who is wurs shod, than the shoemaker's wife,
With shops full of newe shoes all hir lyfe?"

City Police Court

Fourteen-Day Term Set In Drunken Driving Case

James Charles Gray, charged with drunken driving, was sentenced to 14 days in jail when he pleaded guilty in city police court yesterday. He also was prohibited from driving for one year.

According to police Gray was driving in a very erratic manner east on Johnson and was followed by an Esquimalt police officer on a motorcycle. He finally stopped near Government. One front tire on the car was flat.

Charge of assault and causing bodily harm to Mrs. Beatrice Kamis, Island Taxi, against Dennis John Carroll, 1203 Blanshard, was dropped and a lesser charge of common assault laid.

Carroll pleaded guilty to the new charge and was fined $20 and ordered to pay Mrs. Kamis' doctor bills.

Clifford T. Ashton, 28, Vancouver, was convicted on a charge of forging a postal order for $50 and was sentenced to 18 months with hard labor.

G. A. Moore, no fixed address, was sentenced to six months in jail on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. The sentence will be concurrent with a two-year sentence Moore is now serving following a similar conviction in Nanaimo.

Close Watch Being Kept For Disease

No outbreaks of Newcastle disease have been reported on Vancouver Island this year, W. H. Robertson, deputy minister of agriculture, said yesterday.

A close check is being kept on the situation in co-operation with federal authorities, he said.

Despite scattered outbreaks of the disease on the mainland, "federal officials believe that use of the new Dor-Wright vaccine is most promising," Mr. Robertson added.

"We believe we can eventually stamp out the disease if poultrymen co-operate," said Dr. John Hoey, health of animals branch, at New Westminster. "All we need is their consent."

FEW VACCINATED

The total poultry population is close to 3,000,000 birds in the $20,000,000 industry, but fewer than 20 per cent have been vaccinated, Canadian Press reported.

During May, 34 flocks were infected on the mainland and 55,000 birds were slaughtered, the report added.

Poultrymen were warned, however, to allow vaccination of flocks as protection against possible new outbreaks of Newcastle disease. The disease now is reported sweeping Washington State flocks in one of the worst outbreaks.

Plan Silver Tea

The Junior Auxiliary to the B.C. Protestant Orphanage met on Tuesday evening.

Plans for the annual silver tea to be held at the home of Mrs. H. L. Bevan, 3540 Midland, on June 16, were discussed. Miss Marjorie Coates is convener of the tea; Mrs. A. McNeil, floral arrangements, and Miss Joan Chestney, entertainment.

A work meeting will be held on June 8 at the Orphanage.

Keel Laid

PORT ARTHUR, June 8 (CP).—The keel for a coastal-type minesweeper for the Royal Canadian Navy was laid at Port Arthur shipyards today.

Officials said a new type of ship construction will be used on the vessel. The hull will be of hardwood and no steel will be used in her entire make-up.

ANCIENT METHOD

The record of a Roman murder trial in the First Century A.D., shows the slayer was identified by the print of a blood-stained hand.

Petitioners Ask Probe Into Smoke

Residents of Caledonia Avenue, Balmoral Road, North Park Street and Green Street are up in arms about the smoke nuisance allegedly caused by Palm Dairies Ltd., 930 North Park Street, and New Method Laundries Ltd., 947 North Park Street.

Fifty-seven of them petitioned the city yesterday to investigate the conditions prevailing in their district. The petition will go before City Council June 18.

"Small particles of unconsumed oil and smoke from Palm Dairies drift onto houses and clothes on lines. An inspection of the oil-burning facilities would be appreciated.

"Smoke from New Method is black and dirty, and does the same damage," stated the petition.

The petitioners asked for "immediate action" by the city. They felt officials should not overlook this aspect of the smoke nuisance while they are investigating smoke abatement methods used by mill operators, affecting the northern section of the city.

The complaint came hard on the heels of an outcry by residents of the smoky northern section of the city. After stories carried in The Colonist, City Council's fire wardens called a meeting with mill owners and warned them the smoke and cinder nuisance must be reduced.

Doukhobors Inspecting Remote Adams Lake Site

A remote area at the head of Adams Lake in the interior is being considered as a new permanent homesite for British Columbia's Doukhobors.

A party of about 50 Doukhobors accompanied by a provincial government official has journeyed to Adams Lake and is now inspecting the proposed site, it was learned yesterday.

Adams Lake is 40 miles north of Salmon Arm.

Army Opens Central Recruiting Office To Spur Flagging Interest in Brigade

In an effort to step up recruiting for the 27th Infantry Brigade, being raised for service in Europe, a second recruiting office will be opened today in the old Colonist building on Broad Street.

The Bay Street Armory office also will remain open. Telephone inquiries can be made at Garden 8718.

Capt. Sidney Digby, recruiting officer, said the new office was being opened in an effort "to reach as many prospective recruits as possible."

TOO FAR OUT?

He thought the distance between the armory and the downtown district might have some bearing on the lack of interest shown in the new brigade.

The new office will open at 7 a.m. today and will remain open until 10 p.m.

It will be staffed by officers and N.C.O.'s from Gordon Head Army Camp. They are members of the company being raised by the Canadian Scottish Regiment as part of the brigade's Highland battalion.

NO COMMENT

Capt. Digby refused to confirm or deny the report that recruiting for the Victoria unit was the lowest of five Highland regiments represented in the battalion.

"Information must come from army headquarters," he said.

Lieut. Col. W. J. Mosedale, commanding officer of the Scottish reserve unit, said he was at a loss to understand the lack of support given the new company.

The Colonist earlier learned and reported that recruiting here was the lowest in Canada.

VANCOUVER, June 8 (CP). Canadian army officials report less than 300 men in all branches have been enlisted in British Columbia during the month-long drive for recruits for the 27th (European) Brigade.

A B.C. target of 600 men for four infantry companies and two armored troops, plus an additional unnamed number of men for specialist corps artillery, engineers, service corps, had been announced.

The Canadian Scottish of Victoria, also after two full companies, had 26 men and four officers signed up at the start of this week.

Businessmen Face Grave Unless They Reduce Pace

There's more than one kind of occupational hazard.

Dr. J. M. Ewing, principal of Victoria College, made this clear in a talk to the Lions Club yesterday.

"Self-analysis is good business," he said.

There are "hazards" in every occupation.

The teacher, constantly associated with youngsters, is "apt to regard himself as almost beyond reproach."

Professors "live within a field of their own. They get but a limited interpretation of life."

The medical man often becomes "off-handish, abrupt, and sometimes even rude." Lawyers are inclined to see only the bad in other people, he said.

Ministers were mentioned too. "In time they seem to cultivate a 'parsonic smile.'".

"It's a case of tact without contact," he added.

The business man of today faces the greatest number of occupational hazards, according to the college principal. "He constantly strives to become a human dynamo . . . with the result that he dies of heart trouble at an early age.

"What he needs most of all is genuine leisure . . . time to get away from the fast tempo of his business life," Dr. Ewing said.

"The working man constantly thinks of symbols of equality—money, leisure, possessions."

Dr. Ewing suggested time out for fundamental study of economics and politics. "A fundamental knowledge of these subjects is good business for anybody."

D. Bechtel and Dr. T. W. A. Gray, physicians.

Sentences For Burglar Concurrent

Phillip Vass Russell, 3283 Seaton, was sentenced to seven years in jail on a charge of breaking and entering and theft from a Victoria home in city police court yesterday.

The sentence will run concurrently with the sentence of seven years imposed in Saanich court on Thursday. A seven-year sentence given by Magistrate H. C. Hall in Oak Bay police court yesterday afternoon on ten additional charges will also run concurrently.

In Oak Bay A. W. Lutes, Lockland Place, was fined $50 on a dangerous driving charge, and had his license suspended for three months.

Maxine Bond, 1712 Denman, was fined $30 for driving without a license.

The London School of Medicine for women, was founded in 1874 by Sophia Jex-Blake, an English doctor who had studied in Boston.

Civic Workers Discuss Pension Boost

Civic and municipal employees met Thursday to discuss the question of an increase in pensions.

It was pointed out at the meeting that living costs have risen to 182 points from the 1939 figure of 100 "while during this time the service pensions of civic employees have remained the same."

Employees were told "during the same period, the government has reduced the payment to the municipal superahnuation fund every year."

Roy Wooton, president of the Vancouver Island division of the joint superannuation committee, told the meeting teachers' pensions were raised 35 per cent this year.

"All the civic employees ask is that the government continue to carry on with the obligation they undertook in 1939 in regard to pensions," said Mr. Wooton.

Guest speaker at the meeting was Howard Forrest, deputy commissioner of superahnuation.

Too Early Yet For Decision

Attorney-General Gordon Wismer said yesterday that it was too early to say whether he would permit the Game Commission to seek an injunction to halt construction of a dam on the Capilano River.

Members of the commission were quoted in Vancouver as saying they would seek an injunction if the Greater Vancouver Water Board refuses to pay for a new $131,000 fish hatchery on the river.

Mr. Wismer did say, however, that if coho spawning grounds are to be spoiled they should be replaced in some other way.
